33,000 Fans Brave Winds At Opener in Philadelphia

Phillies Open Their Second Play in History, Other in 1915

Shibe Park, Philadelphia, Oct 4 (AP)—Big bespectacled Jim Konstanty, Philadelphia's record-breaking relief pitcher, and Vic Raschi, New York's 21-game winner, were the opposing pitchers today as the underdog National League champion Phils and the American League champion Yankees met in the first game of the 1950 World Series.

A sellout crowd of some 33,000 fans braved the chill winds and cloudy skies to watch the Phils compete in their second Series in history. In their only other participation, the Phillies were beaten four games to one by the 1915 Boston Red Sox. On the other hand it marked the 17th World Series for the Yankees, 12 of which they won.

The announced starting lineups:

New York—Gene Woodling, lf; Phil Rizzuto, ss; Yogi Berra, c; Joe DiMaggio, cf; Johnny Mize, 1b; Bobby Brown, 3b; Hank Bauer, rf; Jerry Coleman, 2b; Vic Raschi, p (21-8).

Philadelphia—Eddie Waitkus, 1b; Richie Ashburn, cf; Dick Sisler, lf; Del Ennis, rf; Willie Jones, 3b; Granı Hamner, ss; Andy Seminick, c; Mike Goliat, 2b; Jim Konstanty, p (16-7).

Umpires—Jack Conlan (National League) plate; Bill McGowan (American League) first base; Dusty Boggess (National League) second base; Charlie Berry (American League) third base; Al Barlick (National League) left field foul line; Bill McKinley (American League) right field foul line.

The play-by-play follows:

First Inning Yankees

Woodling walked. Rizzuto between third and short, Woodling stopping at second. Berra flied to Ennis at base of right field wall, Woodling taking third after catch. Rizzuto held first. Russ Meyer, righthander, started warming up in Phillies' bullpen. DiMaggio fouled to Waitkus. Mize flied to Ennis, short right.

No runs, one hit, no errors, two left.

First Inning Phillies

Woodling slammed into lower barrier in left field while chasing Waitkus' foul fly. After a brief rest, he returned to his post in left field. Waitkus fouled to Berra. Ashburn bunted, Raschi threw him out. Raschi also threw out Sisler.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Second Inning Yankees

Brown flied to Ennis. Hamner threw out Bauer. Coleman fouled to Sisler.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Second Inning Phillies

Coleman threw out Ennis. Jones

Three Men Hurt On Springtown Rd.

One in Critical Condition at Hospital; Car Hits Ditch, Upsets

Three men employed at the Hillside Farm, New Paltz, were injured Tuesday afternoon when a Chevrolet coupe overturned on the Springtown road when the operator lost control. One of the men, Maximilian Sachs, 66, is in critical condition at the Kingston Hospital and his two companions, Daniel Washburn, 63, New Paltz, and Joachim Hansen, 76, were reported in serious condition this morning.

Sergeant William Martin of the Highland state police station reported the accident happened about a mile northeast of New Paltz when Daniel Washburn lost control of the car. The accident happened about 2 p. m.

The car struck the ditch and upset, turning over several times. The roof of the coupe became loose and all three occupants of the car were thrown out. They were treated by Dr. Virgil DeWitt at the scene and then brought to the Kingston Hospital by ambulance.

Sachs, received a fracture of the right leg and lacerations and abrasions. His condition today was reported as critical.

Hansen received a fractured left hip, lacerations and contusions and was reported in serious condition today.

Daniel Washburn sustained cuts, abrasions and bruises and other injuries and was reported in serious condition.

All three men were employed at Hillside Farm, New Paltz, by Harry Dippel.

Is Ruled Invalid

Jacksonville, Fla., Oct. 4 (AP)—An ordinance banning Communists from Jacksonville was ruled unconstitutional yesterday. Circuit Judge Ogilvie said it violated both the Declaration of Rights of the Florida Constitution and the 14th Amendment of the United States Constitution. He ordered Alexander W. Trainor freed. Trainor, who registered to vote as a member of the Communist Party, had been sentenced to 90 days for violating the ordinance which made it a crime for a Communist to live here.

George Miller Dies

New York, Oct. 4 (AP)—George Miller, 61, president of I. Miller and Sons Inc., manufacturers of women's shoes, died suddenly at his home today. Miller, a native of Paris, France, had been suffering from diabetes but had worked as late as last Monday. He was a director of the National Shoe Manufacturers Association. His widow, the former Lottie Rabinowitz, two sons, Richard and Alan, and a daughter, Mrs. Jacqueline Katzenskin, survive.

Returns to Tokyo

Taipei, Formosa, Oct. 4 (AP)—General MacArthur's Far East Command survey group on this Chinese Nationalist island stronghold ended its work today and returned to Tokyo. The group came here early in August to assess the Nationalists' military needs in the event of a Chinese Communist attack.

Newburgh Man Wounded

P.F.C. George James Hamill, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Hamill of 64 Clinton street, Newburgh, was the only area casualty listed in the latest Defense Department report today to the Associated Press. Hamill was reported wounded in action in the Korean war.

Audience Is Held

Vatican City, Oct. 4 (AP)—Pope Pius XII received Clare Booth Luce, former Connecticut Congresswoman, in private audience at his Castle Gandolfo summer home today.

Eight Cases Are Settled; One Goes Through Default

Matters Treated Represent Strikeoffs; Jurors Are Excused Until Thursday

Eight cases were disposed of in Supreme Court this morning before Justice Harry E. Schirick by settlement and in one case judgment was taken by default. This cleared the ready calendar and jurors were excused until 10 o'clock Thursday morning.

There has been an accumulation of old cases on the Supreme Court calendar which have gone over prior terms because they were not reached, even though they came under the strike-off rule. Under the rule the strike-off call has been at the opening of the second week. Prior to the addition of strike-off cases long day calendars have been added with the result the old cases under the strike-off rule were not reached before the term ended.

A week prior to the opening of the present term Justice Schirick had the clerk of the court notify attorneys of cases which came under the strike-off rule that the call of those cases would be on the opening day of court. This placed them at the head of the calendar where they were first reached.

Strike-off cases at the head of the calendar are now being called first and are being disposed of as they are reached.

Judgment was directed in No. 37, John B. Marsiglio, Marlbor-

Permits Are Issued For 29 New Homes Here in September

Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy in September issued permits for the construction of 29 new homes in Kingston, to cost an estimated total of $254,850. The previous month, August, permits were issued for 14 homes, at an estimated total cost of $119,500.

Among the non-residential construction permits issued in September was one issued the Shell Oil Company, authorizing construction of a new gasoline station at the corner of Albany avenue and East St. James street. Cost was estimated at $24,000.

Permits were also issued for one green house, to cost $150; one loading platform, to cost $2,500, and eight private garages at total estimated cost of $4,000.

Permits to install oil tanks and burners totalled 31, with estimated cost totalling $13,620.

Grand total of all permits, including those for additions, alterations and repairs, was 100, with total estimated cost of $341,799. This is compared with a grand total of 62 permits issued in August, with total cost estimated at $158,070.

Barker Outlines Necessity Of 'Crusade for Freedom'

A campaign such as the Crusade for Freedom, designed to counteract the Communistic propaganda so widespread behind the iron curtain is urgently needed, Major General Ray W. Barker, New York regional Crusade chairman, told members of Lions, Kiwanis and Rotary Clubs at a joint meeting at the Governor Clinton Hotel Tuesday at noon.

Gen. Barker, who was this nation's first military governor in Berlin, pointed out that behind the iron curtain the only newspapers or books that are read are Communist-colored; the only moving pictures shown are Communist-colored, and the only radio programs heard are Communist-colored.

All those media of exchange of ideas not only adhere strictly to the Communist party line, but also are used to inflame hatred for America and its allies, particularly Great Britain, he said.

Backing up his talk with incidents from his own experience with the Russians just after the close of World War 2, Gen. Barker said that "our fight against Communism goes back a long, long time."

"Our way of life has been at war with the Communist way of life for a long time, even before 1939," he said.

Gen. Barker, now retired from active Army duty, is superintendent of Manlius school. As such, he said he has observed that com-

Reds Seize Streetcars In Vienna

Most Workers Ignore General Strike Call, but 50,000 in Russian Factories Respond

Four Are Arrested

Mine Workers Are Held for Trying to Short Circuit Power

Vienna, Oct. 4 (AP) — Communists, trying to pump life into a fizzling attempt at a general strike, seized streetcars in the Soviet sector of Vienna today with the aid of Russian soldiers.

The purpose of the whole confiscation of streetcars apparently was to use them to transport thousands of Communist-led workers to a mass demonstration in Vienna's governmental district this afternoon.

The Communist call for the general strike was ignored by most of Austria's workers, although it produced short-lived attempts to seize railways stations and mounting scattered incidents.

About 50,000 workers in the Russian-controlled factories heeded the strike call, issued to back demands for new general wage increases, but the Reds appeared to have failed to lure workers of the Socialist and People's parties, bulk of Austrian labor, out of their factories.

Factories Still Operate

Even in the Russian zone, many factories still were operating, but Austrian government officials said this probably was because the Russians did not want to lose production.

Meanwhile small crowds of Reds marched on several federal railway stations in the heart of the Russian zone and in Vienna. At St. Poelten, astride the railroad route from Vienna to the west, workers "rejected" a Communist attempt to interrupt work, the Austrian Press Agency reported.

Workers ejected strikers from the Russian zone Stadlau station, on the Vienna-Bratislava rail line, but the strikers returned later in the morning and obstructed eastbound traffic.

Clashes between Communists and other workers, and acts of sabotage, increased as midday came.

An indication that the Reds might try to cut power lines came later from Ranna, in the Russian zone. Austrian police there arrested four mine workers who threw wires across high tension lines to short-circuit them.

Clash with Police

Groups of Communists clashed with police and streetcar workers at three points in the American sector of Vienna early today. Thirty Communists were jailed and the attempt to halt streetcar traffic failed.

Elsewhere in Vienna Socialist workers were taking a strong stand against the Red efforts to get them out on strike.

Socialist workers in power plants, gas works, railways and streetcar barns told the Communists they would not join them. Red organizers were rushing about the city, visiting all key installations in hopes of finding supporters.

But the government appeal to workers to preserve their freedom against what was described as a Red attempt to smash the government appeared at first sight to have had a strong influence on the vast majority of workers.

In Austria's western provinces, occupied by the western allies, the strike scene was comparatively quiet.

The strike began last midnight after the government defied a Communist ultimatum demanding a 20 per cent wage increase to counter government-ordered food price increases. The government had approved a 10 per cent wage increase.

Many Thousands Killed in Korea

Pierces Curtain

Rep. Thurmond Chatham (D.-N.C.) (above) has pierced Russia's iron curtain in Germany and returned with an eye-witness account of new Soviet baby tanks and jet planes.

Reds and Police, South Koreans Said to Have Shared

Seoul, Oct 4 (AP)—A South Korean official estimated today the Communists massacred more than 10,000 Seoul residents before being driven from the capital city by U. S. Marines and Doughboys.

"Several thousand more are reported lying in the hills," said Lee Juong Choon, chief of the municipal public information section of Seoul. "Many were dumped into rivers by the Reds."

Lee said the city actually had buried only 375 bodies, some of them victims of the street-by-street fighting for Seoul.

Another source, who declined to be identified, said mass killings were not the work of North Koreans alone. He said the number of non-combatants slain by both the Communist police and South Korean soldiers probably would total several tens of thousands in all South Korea.

AP Correspondent Stan Swinton reported from Kunsan, west coast port, that a survivor told United Nations investigators 2,000 South Koreans were killed at Chonju. The investigators there are Lt. Col. Benito N. Ebuen and Major D. Dionisio Ojeda, both of the Philippines.

Courts Organized Hastily

One source said "people's courts" in Seoul were organized hastily and in operation within 10 days after Communist occupation of the capital June 28. He said political prisoners were "tried" this way:

The prisoners were marched to the balcony of the People's Theatre building. The charges were read and the crowd below was asked: "Guilty or not guilty?"

He said executions followed invariably.

Asked for comment as to whether South Korean authorities executed political prisoners, Lee said some reformed Communists were executed for returning to the Red banner after the invasion of the republic.

The public information official said the figure would not run as high as 30,000 to 40,000. He added that the disappearance of perhaps 50,000 loyal South Koreans does not mean all were executed by the Reds.

"We were told many skilled persons, such as doctors, engineers, musicians, leading actors and actresses and professors were taken north for the purpose of enriching the Communist country with needed talent," Lee said.

1,800 Are Killed

One responsible source said that, early in July, South Koreans killed 1,800 persons at Taejon and that there were reports of political executions in other South Korean cities. None has been confirmed officially.

At Kunsan, the two U.N. investigators said the survivor related:

A few hours before U. S. Second Division spearheads arrived at Chonju, 26 miles southeast of this west coast port, a Korean Red army major ordered all prisoners killed.

The survivor hid in a corner of his dark, dungeon-like cell and escaped detection. Guards gathered the prisoners, who were taken to a brick-baking oven.

"The prisoners, including women, were beaten to death with rubber hoses and axe handles,

Council to Issue Anticipation Notes For Departments

B.P.W. Claim Approved for Snow Removal; $287,000 Is Due in Revenue

The Common Council last night voted to issue revenue anticipation notes for $96,487 to run city departments pending receipt of that amount in state money and approved a B.P.W. claim of $36,544.62 for snow removal.

City Treasurer Oscar A. Goodsell's letter asking for approval of the notes explained that the city has a balance due of $287,000 in anticipated revenue of which $96,487 is state-shared per capita tax.

Since the greater part of this revenue will not be received until the latter part of the year and early in 1951, he asked to be empowered to borrow the amount for the operation of city departments until the money is received.

For Salaries, Wages

Of the total snow removal claim, $31,311.27 was for salaries and wages, $2,324.30 for maintenance and equipment, and $2,909.05 for materials and supplies. The amount was for last winter's snow removal.

Four claims and one summons and complaint were filed by individuals against the city; two for injuries suffered in falls on sidewalks, one for damage done by blasting and one for slight damage during a city park ball game. All were referred to the auditing committee and corporation counsel.

The summons and complaint filed by Cashin & Ewig for Wanda Hiltebrant, seeks $5,000 for injuries suffered in a fall on a sidewalk and follows a previously filed claim.

The information said Wanda Hiltebrant suffered injuries to the limbs and body and "severe nervous shock," when she fell near 87 Pearl street last March 31 on a section of sidewalk which was claimed to be defective.

A claim for $1,000 by Bertha Peckerman, 68 Plymouth avenue, filed by Cook & Cook, was for injuries suffered in a fall on Fair street last August 22, and one by Mary D. Short, 44 Green street, also for $1,000, filed by Attorney Howard C. St. John, was for a fall on Wall street near Warren street last August 21. The information said the woman suffered a broken shoulder and other injuries when she fell on a sidewalk that was "broken and slanty."

Damage Is Cited

The claim for damages allegedly caused by a city blasting project was filed by Attorney Joseph Avis for Abraham H. and Celia B. Lipgar. The claim said blasting on Valentine avenue last September 7, caused broken glass, cracks in walls and the basement floor.

Mike Basch filed a claim for

Dewey Moves Into Southern Section

En route with Dewey, Oct. 4 (AP)—Governor Dewey moved into southern New York today on a four-day, "get-out-the-vote" drive.

Dewey resumed his stumping campaign in a nine-county swing keyed with a move for heavy Republican registration Friday and Saturday, the first days for upstate personal registration.

Dewey gets down to political business tonight at Olean, after receiving an honorary doctor of laws degree in the afternoon at St. Bonaventure University.

The governor is one of several dignitaries participating in ceremonies marking the changeover of the Roman Catholic school from a college to a university.

Turkey Accepts Invitation, Will Become 'Associate'

Nation Does Not Become Full-Fledged Member of Alliance in Atlantic Pact

Washington, Oct. 4 (AP)—Turkey has accepted an invitation "to be associated with" Atlantic Pact defense planning in the Mediterranean area.

Under the agreement, Turkey does not, however, become a full-fledged member of the 12-nation defense alliance.

The State Department today disclosed Turkey's acceptance of the invitation by making public an exchange of notes between Secretary Acheson and the Turkish ambassador, Feridun C. Erkin.

Acheson acted on behalf of the foreign ministers of the 12 treaty nations who met in New York last week to plan increased defense preparations.

Acheson's note said:

"It is the view of the council that association of the Turkish Government with the appropriate phase of the planning work of the North Atlantic Treaty organization with regard to the defense of the Mediterranean would contribute significantly to the defense of that area."

Sleightsburg Man Is Held on Charge

Three Persons Are Hurt In Variety of Accidents

Three persons were injured, an infant in a carriage escaped unhurt, a driver was arrested on a charge of driving while intoxicated, and a store front was damaged in city traffic mishaps yesterday.

Ephraim Decker, 67, of Sleightsburg, was arrested on the drunken driver charge following a mishap on Broadway near Brewster street yesterday afternoon. He waived examination as a second offender and was held for the grand jury when he appeared before City Judge Raymond J. Mino today.

The police report at 2:37 p. m., yesterday said the Decker car was in collision with the sedan parked at the curb on Broadway near Brewster street. It was owned by Rebecca Y. Smith Sapone, Creek Locks, and driven by Louis Peter Sapone, same address. Officers

3rd Division Is 60 Miles Into North

MacArthur Says U. S. Third Infantry Is in Far East, Ordered Before Victory

Enemy Vanishes

Signs of Battle Are Seen Ahead, However, Is Report

Tokyo, Oct. 4 (AP) South Koreans thrust searching spearheads deeper into Red Korea today through ominously silent country.

The Republic's home-security and footsore Third Division stabbed as far as 60 miles beyond the pre-allel 38 border line.

The enemy had all but vanished before the forwardmost penetration force but signs of battles ahead were mounting.

At least 20,000 South Korean troops, the Third and Capital divisions, already were well over the border that was breached last Sunday. Behind them three more South Korean divisions were poised to cross the line.

A few dozen American Army men were above 38 as advisers but the north liberation campaign still was a solely South Korean show on the combat level.

Allied Forces of the United Nations Peace-Enforcement Armies were growing stronger.

Announced by MacArthur

The arrival of the U. S. Third Infantry Division in the Far East was announced by General MacArthur's headquarters.

It came from the American West coast on November orders obviously issued before the tide turned decisively in mid-September on the winning Allied gamble for Inchon and Seoul.

There were only vague indications of what the Reds might be up to in the way of last-ditch defenses before their Pyongyang capital area.

Northwest of Pyongyang, Allied warplanes spotted and then lost in bad weather a Red motor convoy. It was the second sighted in two days or maybe part of the same one that had been attacked by air with good results reported Tuesday.

13-26 light bomber pilots sighted the 150-vehicle convoy Tuesday night near Pakchon, about 50 miles northwest of Pyongyang.

The column was rolling south toward the Red capital on the main road that runs down from the Manchurian border. This is the same road where a motor column was seen Monday and hit Tuesday.

Vehicles Knocked Out

Allied warplanes knocked out an estimated 50 vehicles Tuesday; bad weather grounded the aircraft Wednesday.

It was a break for the Reds, who have fought the war they started June 25 with Russian arms.

A Fifth Air Force spokesman expressed the belief the column was not a troop convoy.

"There has been a steady movement of supplies by road from the Manchuria border south all through the war," said Maj. Robert Nelmis.

Evidence of atrocity murders by retreating Reds mounted all over the liberated south.

A South Korean official at Seoul estimated the Communists had massacred more than 10,000 residents in that Republican capital.

AP Correspondent Stan Swinton wrote from the west coast port of Kunsan that 2,000 South Koreans had been reported killed at nearby Chonju. He quoted a survivor's report to U.N investigators.

100 Shot, Burned

An American Army officer said 700 Korean civilians including children were shot, bayoneted and burned at Yangyong, 36 miles east of Seoul.

Throughout South Korea, allied forces fought to wipe out isolated bands of Reds fleeing northward. The allied bag of prisoners, mounting hourly, hit 25,000. A total of 4,166 Red captives was reported during the past 24 hours.

General MacArthur's headquarters, in announcing the arrival of the Third Infantry, did not disclose the time and place.

The new troops swelled to six divisions and one regimental combat team the American forces in the war theatre.

Guerrilla Warfare Feared As Eventuality in Korea

Washington, Oct. 4 (AP)—The eventuality in Korea which American officials now fear is the breakdown of the Communist army into guerrilla forces which could fight on for months or even years.

Far more serious, of course, would be the direct intervention of Chinese Communist or Russian troops in North Korea, but Washington authorities do not appear to believe this will take place.

On the contrary, there is increasing speculation here that the Russians and Red Chinese will encourage the Korean Reds to convert their country into another Greece or Indo-China. That would mean an indefinite delay in bringing real peace to the peninsula and a prolonged drain on American military strength.

However, the growing power of South Korean forces, with American training and supplies and supported legally and morally as well as in other ways by the United Nations, probably would make it unnecessary for U. S. troops in large numbers to remain in the fight indefinitely.

The threat of guerrilla war is seen by officials here in several recent developments.

The fact that the North Korean command ignored Gen. Douglas MacArthur's request for surrender last week dashed such hopes as there were that the whole

Telephone Wage Increases Made

The New York Telephone Company announced that agreements providing general wage increases ranging from $2 to $5 weekly was signed today with four unions representing 15,300 employes in upstate New York.

During the life of the contract employes below the top rates will also receive further wage increases until each reaches the maximum rate for his job classification. This will mean additional increases for such employes of from $1 to $5 weekly.

The agreements, subject to ratification by the memberships was signed by representatives of the following unions: The Telephone Traffic Union of Upstate New York; Empire State Telephone Union (plant); Upstate Telephone Employe Association (accounting); The Commercial Employes' Association.

The contracts would run for 18 months the company spokesman said thus lending stability to telephone employment at a time when continued dependence on communications is vital to the nation.

The increase will add many millions of dollars to the annual payrolls he continued, pointing out that this additional outlay will of course add substantially to operating expenses and will have an adverse effect on company earnings.

New Security Plan Means Million a Month in County

Joseph B. O'Connor, Federal Security Agency regional director for the states of New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Delaware, visited Kingston yesterday. O'Connor in an interview pointed out that the Social Security Administration field office servicing Ulster county, would before the end of 1950, be paying approximately 2,900 people in excess of one million dollars each month under the revised Old-Age and Survivors Insurance program.

O'Connor went on to point out important changes in the 1950 amendments in the Social Security Act effecting matching payments to State Governments. He said the addition of a new category is a major extension under the system of grants-in-aid to states for public assistance. Under it assistance financed partly by federal funds, will become available to an additional group of handicapped persons 18 years of age or older.

Like other assistance programs of the Social Security Act, this program will be state initiated and state administered. Federal funds will be available to each state upon approval of its plan. As in the programs of old-age assistance and aid to the blind the maximum individual payment in which the Federal Government will participate is $50 and the formula governing the federal share is the same. The Federal Government will also provide one-half of the administrative expenses.

While most of the individuals who will come within this category will have had employment or be potentially employable some will never have been in the labor force or be considered for it due to the nature of the disability. Some are now receiving help under state or local programs of general assistance, others may be in institutions for necessary maintenance and care. Payments made to recipients of general assistance are often inadequate and below the standard governing payments for persons under the categories financed by federal and state funds. Federal funds will help to provide assistance more equitably from county to county within a state, to increase payments which fail to meet individual need and to help additional persons who, because of lack of funds, are not receiving aid.

Recognition of the needs and expenses of the parent or other relative who assumes responsibility for the care of the needy child and who maintains a home for him is encompassed in a change in maximums governing federal financial participation. The federal government beginning Oct. 1, 1950, will participate in an additional amount up to $27 with respect to the relative in some 560,000 aid to dependent children families.

This amendment will bring the rate of federal participation in expenditures for aid to dependent children somewhat nearer to that for old-age assistance and aid to the blind. Federal costs will increase about a third or an estimated $77 million annually. This estimate, however, assumes that states will continue to spend from state and local funds each month as much as they spent from these funds in September 1949 and that the additional federal funds will be used to increase average payments to recipients.

Aid to dependent children is the only nation-wide program providing aid to large groups of needy children. Benefits under the old-age and survivors insurance program and under the provisions governing dependents of veterans are available to many children whose fathers are dead. For children with fathers living but incapacitated or absent from the home no nation-wide assistance program except aid to dependent children is available. Children in such families are likely to be our neediest group of children because they generally have fewer resources. Fuller acknowledgement that the mother or other adult relative has expenses to meet for herself in maintaining the home for her children can result in more healthful growth and development of children.

Cause of Blast Sought

Modesto, Calif., Oct. 4 (AP)—Officials are still seeking the cause of a mystery explosion which rocked the Modesto area at 7:55 p. m. (10:55 p. m. E.S.T.) last night. Windows rattled, crockery was thrown from shelves and some plaster fell from ceilings. The blast, felt 15 miles away, was so severe that a general fire alarm was sounded. Police said the blast might have been the concussion of a diving jet plane. But military authorities reported no jets in the vicinity. And civilian airlines officials reported no knowledge of any missing aircraft.

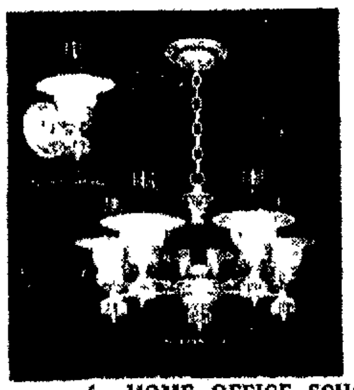

Works Are Issued

Moscow, Oct. 4 (AP)—Fourteen previously unpublished works of Nikolai Lenin, father of the Russian revolution, have been issued in the 30th volume of the latest Soviet edition of his collected essays. Among the newly-published works are two in which Lenin gave instructions on questions of tactics of brotherly Communist parties. The collection also includes four telegrams from Lenin to Joseph Stalin. The Soviet press said the telegrams expressed the concord of Lenin and Stalin and their activity together in leading the Soviet state and the defense of the country.

Restrictions Are Lifted

Washington, Oct. 4 (AP)—The government has lifted all restrictions on cotton production in 1951 but has not yet indicated whether it will boost price guarantees to get a needed increase in the acreage of crop. Secretary of Agriculture Brannan announced late yesterday that rigid acreage allotments and marketing quotas in effect this year will be suspended for next year's crop. In taking this action, the secretary said the nation needs at least two-thirds more cotton from farmers grow this year. Otherwise it might invite allocations of acreage under the national defense program.

Better Buy Buick!

PERHAPS you've noticed that there seem to be a lot of these brawny beauties running around on America's highways—and it isn't just that boldly gleaming forefront that spreads this impression.

It isn't just the fact that folks who own a Buick get such a bang out of it that they do a lot of driving.

Back of all this is another fact. It's a fact that contains a broad hint to anyone who'd like to know what's what in motorcar buys. 1950 Buicks are breaking all past popularity records, as registered in sales.

So we suggest that you do some personal investigating.

Find out, for example, how masterful you feel, with Fireball power purring away the miles, at a polite touch of your toe on the gas treadle.

Find out how the jolts and jars seem to disappear, when you have big soft coil springs on all four wheels, and fat low-pressure tires on wide Safety-Ride rims.

Then there's Dynaflow Drive,* which Buick owners vote the biggest automotive hit that has come along in years.

With all this, there's room, and comfort, and road-hugging heft combined with a light and willing response to your hand on the wheel—and prices that start down with the sixes.

Seems like almost everyone wants to own one of these Buicks—and most people can. How about you? Isn't it a smart idea to see your Buick dealer now and get your name on his list?

*Standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on SUPER and SPECIAL models.

Only BUICK has Dynaflow— and with it goes: HIGHER-COMPRESSION Fireball valve-in-head power in three engines (New F-263 engine in SUPER models) • NEW-PATTERN STYLING, with MULTI-GUARD forefront, taper-through fenders • TRAFFIC-HANDY SIZE, less over-all length for easier parking and garaging, short turning radius • EXTRA-WIDE SEATS cradled between the axles • SOFT BUICK RIDE, from all-coil springing, Safety-Ride rims, low-pressure tires, ride-steadying torque-tube.

FREE CANADIAN DOLLAR

The action of Canada in freeing its dollar from official exchange rates, leaving it to find its own level on the open market, probably was hastened by the apparent beginning of a new inflationary cycle in the United States. With the value of the United States dollar again on the downward curve, it would have been of doubtful wisdom for Canada to keep its dollar arbitrarily at a lower value than ours unless the need to do so were great.

The need seems to have passed. An official exchange rate disadvantageous to the Canadian dollar was fixed last year to encourage a flow of gold and American dollars into the country, to build up reserves. Those reserves are now at an all-time high, indicating that the stratagem has been successful. As Canada has used this device previously to strengthen its economic position, with success, there is reason to presume that the Canadian government has the benefit of shrewd financial advice. Of that we must at times be envious.

There seems to have been some surprise that the Canadian dollar was left free rather than pegged to the American dollar at par. This is a mark of the times; we have come to accept government manipulation of currency as a matter of course. The Canadian treasury people and their advisers apparently believe that their dollar will be stronger in the end if it is placed at the mercy of the market. This is definitely old-school theory, but it might be right.

QUICK CHANGE ARTISTS

Korean war correspondents say one of the mysteries of the fighting at this stage is what has become of the substantial North Korean forces which a few weeks ago were pressing hard against the Allied bridgehead in the Pusan sector.

Some of these units, evidently, have fought northward in bitter rear-guard actions. But others seem to have vanished into thin air.

It's very likely thousands of South Koreans conscripted against their will were among these units, and they may simply abandoned their weapons and uniforms to melt into the civilian population.

Knowing the general tactics of the North Koreans, we can expect that many of them may try the same way of bowing out. We should be on guard for a boost in the South Korean civilian population to a new record high. Being a South Korean is going to be an increasingly popular status in the days ahead.

WHO'S WINNING, ANYWAY?

The North Koreans are said to be extending peace feelers. The first overture from the Communist side which bore the earmarks of a feeler suggested that the U.N. forces withdraw to their old, narrow bridgehead in the Pusan area.

Apparently the North Koreans are quite new at this sort of thing. They haven't heard that the winner—not the loser—gets the spoils. It's a wonder they didn't propose our evacuation to Japan as a prelude to peace talks.

NAZISM NOT DEAD

Do the Germans still sigh for the good old days of the Nazis? More than a majority do, at least in the American zone, according to a survey carried out by High Commissioner John J. McCloy. His figures show that in 1947 fifty-two per cent thought that the Nazis had the right idea, and last year the percentage had increased to fifty-nine.

This will take a little explanation. What the Germans admired was the full employment with vacations that Hitler provided until he got into the war. They did admit disapproval of the Nazi concentration camps and persecution of minority races. And some were willing to admit that Germany brought on the war.

Unquestionably many Germans look back with longing to the times when they lived on the food and valuables stolen from conquered Europe. Perhaps, if our officials keep on driving the point home, the Germans will recognize that never again will they be allowed to oppress their neighbors.

One of the seldom heralded advantages of marriage is its ability to save a man time in making up his mind about things.

The average woman may have a vocabulary of only eighteen hundred words, but it's the turnover that counts.

THE SHIFT IN POPULATION

The 1950 census shows changes in the American population that are likely to have important effects upon the politics of the country. Whenever a shift in population occurs, it is indicative of new developments in industry and of sectional importance.

Such states as North Dakota, Nebraska, Oklahoma, Arkansas, and Mississippi show a decrease in population. The largest increase is California, with Arizona, Florida and Nevada following. Apparently, climate has something to do with these changes as well as the movement of industry. California shows 51.6 per cent increase over 1940. It is becoming one of our leading manufacturing as well as agricultural states.

The population of the country has doubled since 1900. The three largest states, on the basis of population, are, in this order, New York, California and Pennsylvania. Together, these three states have a population of 35,651,000 of a total of 150,000,000. In 1900, these three states had an aggregate population of 15,055,000 persons. But this fact is also interesting, that whereas California now has a population of 10,472,000 persons, in 1900 the figures for that state showed only 1,485,000. While the population of the country doubled in the past 50 years, California increased more than seven times.

The House of Representatives is elected on the basis of population; the states, therefore, that have increased populations are likely to get more seats. Public Law 291, signed in 1941, at present controls the system of apportionment, but that does not necessarily mean that when Congress comes to deal with the subject, say in 1951 or 1952, it will not adopt a new law. It is likely, however, that the total number of members will not be increased, but that some states will gain and some will lose.

As it stands now, New York has 45 seats, California 23, and Pennsylvania 33, making a total of 101 seats out of 435.

The Pacific states show the greatest increases in population: California 51.6 per cent; Washington 36 per cent; Oregon 38.6 per cent. While the Atlantic coast states show no decreases, New England produced nothing startling in the past decade.

Maine shows an increase of 7.1 per cent, New Hampshire 7.8 per cent; Vermont 4.6 per cent; Massachusetts 9.2 per cent; Connecticut 16.7 per cent; Rhode Island 10.2 per cent.

(Unless otherwise specified, the comparisons are between 1940 and 1950.)

The comparison would seem to indicate a movement westward, away from the older states and the older traditions of life. With the exception of Florida, none of the southern states show a large increase, the highest being Maryland with 27.5 per cent.

The middle west and south are the only areas which show a decrease, but Michigan, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois do show an increase, with Michigan leading. In the middle west, it is clearer than anywhere else, that the half-century shift of the population from rural to urban centers continues to be pronounced.

The political shift becomes important not only in relationship to the House of Representatives but also in the vote in the electoral college which elects the President. This body equals the number of senators plus representatives; that is, New York state has 45 representatives and 2 senators; therefore, it has 47 votes in the electoral college. The middle west may lose votes. In the south, Alabama, Georgia and Mississippi might lose seats in the House of Representatives, while Florida will undoubtedly gain.

The shift in population moves an increasingly large number of citizens away from the eastern seaboard and makes them more distant from Washington. In 1900, the mountain and Pacific states had a total population of 4,091,000; in 1950, these same states show a population of 19,384,000. In 1900, the west south central states, which include Arkansas, Louisiana, Oklahoma, and Texas showed a population of 6,532,000; in 1950, these same states show 14,476,000.

For purposes of comparison, in 1900, New England's population was 5,592,000; this year, it is 9,306,000.

The movement is definitely westward, with whatever alterations that means in the habits of life and thinking of the people. Certainly, westerners are less conscious of European attitudes than those whose traditions are based on New England or Virginia. Such a trend is never immediately measurable, but it does, in time, alter the political complexion of a country. Horace Greeley's "Go West!" slogan is bearing rich fruit.

That Body of Yours

PRESERVING BABY TEETH

If parents could see how the permanent sets of teeth lie in position to settle into the places of the first set as soon as the first set are lost or removed, they would realize the importance of trying to save the first teeth as long as possible. Leaving the first set in position means that the jawbones, in which the teeth are set, will keep their shape and no disfigurement of the face will occur. Not only will better chewing of food be made possible but the parents will have no regret because of the child's facial appearance.

Many of us think first or baby teeth are not important, as the permanent set will come along all right, but if the baby teeth are lost too soon, there will not be enough room for the permanent set and many of them will have to be straightened at a cost of time and money.

The first or baby teeth should be considered important and given the same attention as permanent teeth is urged by all our dentists.

In the Journal of the American Dental Association, Dr. S. N. Roenstein, of Columbia University's School of Dental and Oral Surgery, states that capping the pulp of a tooth is just as important for a child as for an adult. Children of all ages have been treated successfully with this method to prevent the too early loss of the first teeth. This report, based on a 1-year study at Columbia University's children's dental clinic, showed excellent results from pulp capping in about 90 per cent of the cases studied.

"Pulp capping offers a simple and efficient method of treating many vital (alive), pulp-exposed children's teeth which otherwise require complicated treatment or extraction," Dr. Rosenstein writes.

He points out further that even permanent teeth, when they arrive, should be watched carefully. If pulp is exposed, they should be capped early, especially the molars or grinding teeth at the back of mouth.

The capping of the teeth helps to maintain the regularity of the dental arches, preventing pushing out of line of opposing teeth.

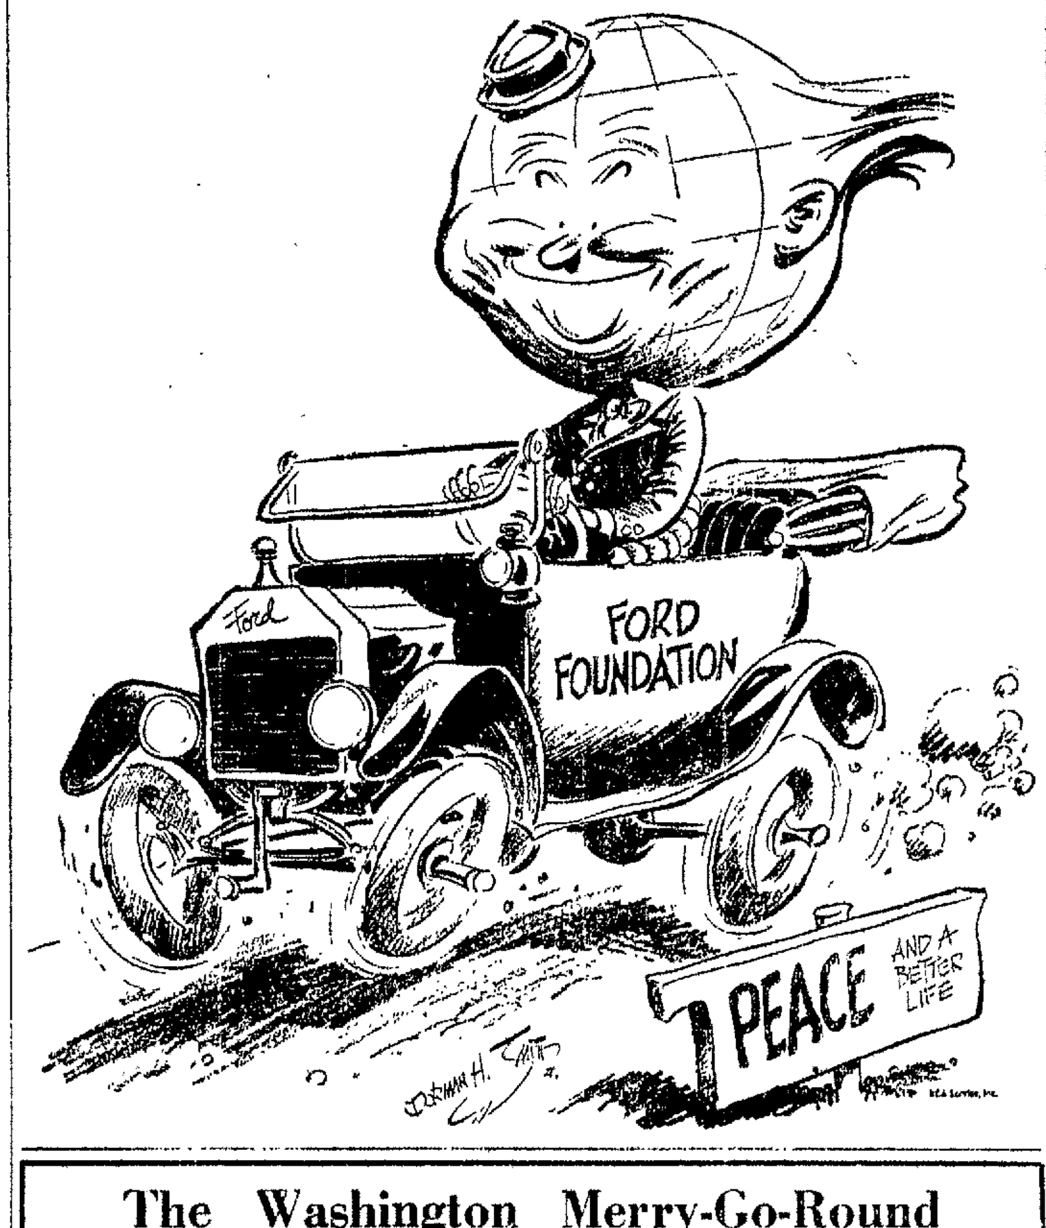

By sending children to the family dentist regularly or, if funds are low, sending them to a dental clinic, not only means health but happiness.

Still Bringing Good Things to Many People

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington—Though Congress has authorized President Truman to invoke price controls, he continues to do nothing about it. Meanwhile, the deadly spiral of inflation goes up and up, and the buying power of the American people's dollar gets less and less.

The housewife probably doesn't need to read this in the newspaper, but the nation's market basket now costs her almost 20 per cent more than she spent to feed her family before the outbreak of the Korean war last June.

Here are a few examples:

Creamery butter is up 16 per cent since June, while the average family's bread and bakery bill has risen between 8 and 10 per cent.

The price of bacon is up 16 per cent since June.

The family milk bill has risen about 18 per cent on a nationwide average.

Round steak is up 33 per cent since June—pork chops, 10 per cent.

A dozen eggs costs 70 cents and higher, compared to 52 cents in June—an increase of 32 per cent.

Coffee has jumped from 74 cents a pound in June to 84 cents for better grades, or a price boost of 13 per cent.

Black pepper, which cost only 3½ cents a pound in 1939, now costs $2.66 a pound.

The wholesale price of cotton yarn has increased 40 per cent in the last year, while the price of a pair of shoes has risen 25 per cent since September, 1949, and 15 per cent since last June.

Truman and Coolidge

The price of medicine has shot up from 25 to 50 per cent.

Meanwhile, veterans of the last war are finding it tougher than ever to buy the homes which Congress promised them five years ago. Here are a few reasons why:

The President has tightened credit controls on lower-bracket home buyers, but he has done nothing about controlling the soaring prices of building materials.

The wholesale price of lumber has jumped 25 per cent since June.

It is practically impossible to buy cement at any price.

Window glass is up 12 per cent over last year.

Copper wire and other electrical and plumbing equipment has risen from 10 to 20 per cent, while home fuels are 10 per cent higher than last year.

However, despite the growing trend of inflation, President Truman still refuses to control prices, though he has the powers to do so if he wants to use them. The Democratic party has long criticized Calvin Coolidge's indifference to inflation, claiming—quite rightly—that it led to an unforgettable depression. Unless Truman acts in a hurry, he will be far more responsible for inflation than the much criticized Republican administrations from 1921 to 1933.

Soft-Soap Sawyer

One of the big inside reasons for failure to impose wage and price controls is the lackadaisical attitude of well-meaning, likable Charles Sawyer, the secretary of commerce.

The other day, tough-minded Stuart Symington, head of the National Security Resources Board, learned that his friend Sawyer was going to make two milk-toast, middle-of-the-road speeches regarding price controls. Symington's advisors debated whether they should warn the secretary of commerce that air-tight, tough controls would be necessary.

However, they decided not to call Secretary Sawyer. To warn him, they decided, would mean that he would only get busy and lobby against the controls which they were planning.

Man With a Smile

Amazing thing about the man whom Secretary Sawyer has picked to control industry is that during the last war he was eased out of the War Production Board because he wasn't tough enough.

The gentleman in question, William H. Harrison, head of International Telephone and Telegraph, was known in the WPB as a nice guy with a smile. Everybody liked him. He didn't offend anyone; neither did he fight.

His job was to control building construction, and he was so friendly that he let the army get away with a lot of construction which they didn't need and which took manpower and materials away from other important projects.

Finally, WPB officials suggested to Gen. B. B. Somervell, the army supply chief, that Harrison be made a general and join the army. Both sides were happier after that.

K. C. Crime

The U. S. attorney who put President Truman's pal, Tom Pendergast, in jail was slated to be subpoenaed before the Kefauver Crime Committee in Kansas City last week, but for some reason he was never called.

What the Senate committee was interested in was any possible friendship between two Mafia leaders and Maurice Milligan, the U. S. attorney whom Truman fired a few days after he became President. The committee was also interested in Milligan's brother, ex-Congressman "Tuck" Milligan.

It happened that two leaders of the underworld society Mafia in Kansas City, Joe De Luca and Joe Di Giovanni, received favors from the two Milligans in 1942, and the Senate committee at first proposed to look into the matter.

Joe De Luca was convicted on a narcotics rap in 1942, at which time narcotics agents of the U. S. Treasury recommended he be given 15 years and deported to Italy. However, U. S. Attorney Milligan, through his assistant, Richard Phelps, recommended only three years and opposed deportation. After De Luca had served only one year of his sentence, Milligan's brother, the congressman, arranged for a parole.

Later, De Luca violated parole and was slapped back in the pen. But within a month, "Tuck" Milligan, the congressman, had arranged another parole.

The Senate committee also was curious as to why U. S. Attorney Milligan had blocked a search warrant for narcotics agents when they wanted to search Di Giovanni's cellar for dope. Narcotics agents had given the Senate Crime Committee a recording of a telephone conversation between the two Mafia members, saying that the district attorney's office had fixed De Luca's narcotics trial. However, for unexplained reasons, the Senate probers at the last minute decided to lay off.

Note—The lay-off was certainly not inspired by the White House. It would have given Mr. Truman great pleasure to have had the man whom he ousted as U. S. attorney investigated by a Senate Committee.

'Voice of America' Can Be No Stronger Than Policies of Nation's Secretary of State

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Oct. 4.—The "Voice of America" is as strong or as weak as the policies of the Secretary of State, Dean Acheson. At the moment the American people believe that the "Voice of America" tries to persuade the people of the Soviet Union to abandon Communism. But Evidently that sort of broadcasting is taboo.

The "Ukrainian Bulletin," official publication of the Ukrainians in this country, just issued, prints an interesting exchange of letters recently with Foy D. Kohler, head of the State Department's broadcasting division. It appears that the Ukrainians here have been dissatisfied because the "Voice of America" isn't more pointed in its broadcasts to the people of the Ukraine, who total 45,000,000 and who are regarded by many observers as constituting the Achilles' heel of the Soviet Union.

The letter of criticism came from Professor L. E. Dobriansky, of Georgetown University, who is president of the Ukrainian Congress Committee of America. The answer by Mr. Kohler of the State Department follows:

"I appreciate your calling my attention to the misinterpretations which had been attached to the phrases in my letter of April 16 to Vladimir Sushko to effect that, 'our Ukrainian broadcasts have been criticized, sometimes severely, because they do not project a liberated Ukraine. We still are unable to do that for that would be contrary to United States foreign policy.'

"As you know from conversations we have had, it is the function of the Voice of America to express and to implement American foreign policy. It was certainly, therefore, not my intention in the letter to Mr. Sushko to make any statement which would in any sense constitute a pronouncement on American foreign policy. Similarly it is not my intent in this letter to do so, since pronouncement on this subject must rather come from the president or secretary of state, or authorized responsible political officers of the Department of State in Washington. This should have been clear to the readers of my letter to Mr. Sushko and I find it difficult to appreciate how the interpretations you mention could have arisen. However, I am glad to reemphasize and expand my remarks as follows. I meant simply to make clear that that policy does not authorize the Voice of America at the present time to engage in any programming directly designed to 'change the governmental or social structure of the Soviet Union,' to quote the secretary of state in his address to the University of California on March 16 last.

"As the secretary then pointed out, this does not in any way lessen our sympathy with the peoples who are obliged to live under the Soviet system. Neither, I would add, does it prevent the Voice of America from any expression to that sympathy, nor does it affect our serious intention to bring to those peoples the true story of what is going on in the world and how the American government and people view it. I would certainly hope that such information, interpreted in the light of their own historical traditions, would comfort and encourage the Ukrainian people in their endeavors to find the means of expressing their free will and of achieving the aspirations they may have to become again the Masters of their own destiny.

"I trust that the foregoing will clarify for you the intention of my letter and the objectives of the Ukrainian-language program of the Voice of America."

The foregoing illustrates the limitations placed on the 'Voice of America.' Apparently the broadcasts must not do anything to induce the people of the Soviet Union to change their governmental or social structure. Yet nine out of ten members of Congress have believed all along that this is what they were appropriating money for. Also most people outside of Congress have assumed that the main objective of the broadcasts was to create inside the Soviet Union a feeling of antipathy toward international communism, which, of course, nowadays is indistinguishable from national communism.

Just why must the Department of State be so polite in its broadcasts? Why can't it tell the peoples who make up the Soviet Union that their governmental structure is a menace to world peace today and that, unless it is changed, the world will drift some day into a large-scale war? Why can't the Department of State's broadcasts point out that the leaders of the Soviet Union have already demonstrated in North Korea that they believe in aggression by military force?

If the Department of State has some diplomatic inhibitions about blunt speech and a direct appeal to the Soviet peoples, then some other agency should undertake such broadcasts. There is no reason why an agency like the OWI, responsible to the President alone, couldn't be set up to organize broadcasts of all kinds—these could be outspoken and would not mince words or be influenced by the fear of offending the sensibilities of the Kremlin.

The parents of the American boys shot down in Korea with their hands tied behind them wouldn't be offended.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

New York, Oct. 3.—Congressman Harold H. Velde, of Illinois, a Republican, recently caused the publication in the Congressional Record, at a cost of $287 to the taxpayers, a comprehensive and, I sincerely believe, truthful, review of the Communist permeation of our government under the Roosevelt reign, written by Martin Dies, the chairman of the old special House Committee on Un-American Activities. Mr. Velde indicated a belief that the value of this summary to the public as an informative, historical record justified the expense. I agree with him. I shall have to condense it, even omitting important phases of Mr. Dies' statement, but will not misrepresent his meaning as the Communist Smearbund habitually does in hounding anti-Communists, including historians and journalists.

"In 1938," Mr. Dies said, "I become intensely interested in Communist infiltration of labor unions and in government service. I introduced a resolution and the House, on May 26, 1938, established the committee. Immediately, I encountered serious opposition. The Democratic members of the Committee on Accounts, upon instructions from the White House, reduced the requested budget from $100,000 to $25,000. My uncle, Jack Dies, said: 'Martin, I hate to advise you to abandon this project, but you are preparing to antagonize powerful forces in this country and you will be harassed as few men have been harassed.'

"Well, I cannot back up. I telephoned the attorney general to ask for competent and reliable investigators, and he sent me two men. I received a telephone call, however, shortly before their arrival telling me both men were members of the Communist party. When they arrived, I put them through the third degree in the presence of the entire committee and finally they admitted they were members of the Communist party who worked in the Department of Justice. I knew the administration was under the control of Moscow propaganda."

I here skip a large section of the review, coming to his comment on the press corps of Washington which is on the whole the most corrupt in the sense of being deliberately angled and untruthful in all our journalism, although the Washington corps are widely and erroneously believed to be the soul of probity.

"We began to investigate the reporters who covered our proceedings because they wrote so many false stories and sent them out. You know what we discovered? The New York Chapter of the Newspaper Guild was completely Communist controlled. Our committee was assigned Communist reporters and they garbled accounts to make the committee appear ridiculous and undermine it because they were working with

Publication Suspended

Pittsburgh, Oct. 4 (AP)—Publication of Pittsburgh's three daily newspapers was suspended today for the second straight day by a strike of mailing room workers. The Pittsburgh Press and the Pittsburgh Sun Telegraph—both afternoon newspapers—yesterday notified non-striking workers they will not be needed and that their pay will stop until the work stoppage is ended. Publication of the morning Pittsburgh Post Gazette had been suspended previously. The three papers have a combined daily circulation of 780,000.

Joint Account Planned

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 4 (AP)—For two years, Edward H. Haverly, Jr., went to the bank each week to make a Christmas Club deposit. Now he and the teller, the former Miss Marie T. McNamara, plan to open a joint account. They were married recently.

Do You Remember

by

SOPHIE MILLER

Just received a silver 25th anniversary letter from Warren F. Smith's Advertising Service, with a real silver 25-cent piece. I remember hearing that J. D. Rockefeller, Sr., used to give only silver dimes. First time I met the Smiths was when Warren and Edith had their Book Shop at 6 St. James street just off Broadway and were also district agents for the Curtis Publishing Co. I used to drive up there in my old back-shift Dodge not only to borrow books but also to play with the adorable fat twin babies who scooted among the books on the floor. Those two chubby babies grew up into the pretty Smith girls together with a third Smith beauty. The Smith Sisters were a well known harmonizing trio and gave of their talents wherever the need arose for social welfare entertainment. One of their favorite numbers was "Don't Sit Under the Apple Tree." Anyway they brought the house down with that number at the Stewart Field Post Theatre Show which I arranged from Kingston during the war years. Warren Smith's letter certainly rolled back the quarter of a century on some very pleasant memories.

Who collects what and why? "Fortune" magazine of May 1948, has an exciting article called "Main Street Looking North From Courthouse Square." A portfolio of American picture postcards from the trolley-car period. One of the colored postcards shown looks like Rondout by the Ferry house but is of Fishkill-on-Hudson, N. Y., called "Bank Square, Five Corners." On these pages are a dozen and a half samples of "Main Street" in other cities of the nation, all taken from the picture collection of the N. Y. Public Library.

It also says that tens of thousands of these precious cards lie in attics and junk shops, and some are filed carefully in libraries, museums and homes of serious private collectors. Postcard collectors today are a knowing and organized lot, well aware of what to look for, where to look, and how much to pay. Collecting early cards (circa 1890-1910) is financially reasonable; prices range from a penny to a dollar an item. In the 1900's or so, cards were often made from black and white photographs and tinted by hand lithography. The best ones achieved a fidelity that most color-photography printers have yet to match, Walker Evans the author of the article states.

The article further explains: "Picture postcards originated in Germany, where most of the American cards were printed at the turn of the century. But then came the Detroit Publishing Co., which in its peak production years distributed millions of beautifully colored local views. This company was forced out of the post-card business in 1924 by the advent of cheap machine lithography. But most of its cards were made by such excellent craftsmen that today the Detroit Publishing Co.'s cards are most sought after by collectors who refer to them as "Detroits." Most of the original Detroit negatives were purchased by Henry Ford's Institute.

It is said that currently some 700 million cards are mailed out each year of the "Wish you were here, greeting." Recently the hobby of collecting postcards has been given the staggering name of "deltiology" from Greek word "deltos," meaning writing tablet. Two notable postcard exhibitions were of the Museum of the City of New York in 1943 and one held at Atwater Kent Museum, Philadelphia, in 1944.

Reports Theft of Jewels

Chicago, Oct. 4 (AP)—Film Actress Marie MacDonald told central police that thieves broke into her dressing room at the Coliseum yesterday and stole jewelry she valued at $6,125. Miss MacDonald is appearing at the third annual National Television and Electrical Living Show at the Coliseum with Comedian Jack Carson. She told police the missing jewelry included a gold compact set with 50 small rubies valued at $2,000; earrings with a 1½ carat diamond each set in platinum worth $4,000, and a white gold pin valued at $125. She said the jewels, all gifts, were insured.

Social Security Law Provisions

George J. Johnson, manager of the Kingston Social Security office, submits the following in a series of articles on the new Social Security Law:

Perhaps in the past you have said, or have heard someone say: "John H. was a corporation official with an upper-brackets salary. Now he's retired and getting social security benefit payments monthly. I have my own business and make a modest income. When I retire, my income stops. I don't come under social security."

That statement, made before the President signed the amended Social Security Act, would have been wholly true. However, under the new law, and beginning in January 1951, you may have social security protection.

The self-employed—people who work for themselves, approximately 1,200 in this area, may begin building toward old-age and survivors' insurance on the first of the year. They, like the salaried worker, may get monthly insurance payments when they retire; their families may get survivors' insurance if the self-employed worker should die.

The self-employed person will be covered by social security if his net earnings are at least $400 in a year. He will be given a quarter of coverage for each $100 of his yearly earnings but not more than four quarters of coverage can be credited to any one year.

The self-employed person (who is in effect both employe and employer) will pay a social security tax of 2¼ of his net earnings where the amount is $400 or more in a year, beginning with his net earnings for 1951. He will not pay on earnings of over $3,600 a year. His first report for social security purposes of his earning from self-employment will be made as part of his income tax return filed on January 1, or March 15, 1952.

This report of his net earnings over $400 and up to $3,600 will include any profit from his business operations (as sole owner or partner) but will not include income from such nonbusiness as rentals from real estate, unless he is a real estate dealer, or dividends or interest from stocks or bonds, unless he is in the business of securities exchange. Capital gains and losses, and income from an estate or trust will not be considered as earnings for social security purposes.

The kinds of trades and business enterprises in which self-employment will count toward old-age and survivors insurance benefits are varied. As sole owner or partner, you may operate a store, a beauty parlor or a filling station. You may have a barber shop, a tavern, or operate your own taxi. You may be self-employed in your own manufacturing plant, or you may have a shoe-shine stand. The size of your business is not a consideration. Again, you may be a free-lance writer, artist, sign painter or independent contractor.

To determine more quickly whether your self-employment work will come under social security in January, scan the following list of excluded professions and business operations. Your earnings will not be covered by the law if they come from self-employment as a physician, dentist, osteopath, chiropractor, optometrist, naturopath, Christian Science practitioner, veterinarian, funeral director, lawyer as a certified, licensed, registered or full-time practicing accountant, or as a professional engineer or architect. Farm operators also, are not covered by social security.

In next week's article, I will discuss Social Security coverage for the employe's of non-profit institutions and local and state governments.

the administration in power."

I should like to stipulate that I discount Mr. Dies' indication that the reporters all were Communists. Overwhelmingly, however, they were, as he said, propagandists for the administration and against the committee, and their work was a spectacular disgrace. One of the specials was a drunken misanthrope representing a midwestern paper of great and ancient prestige. This journalists drew a big salary, drank champagne, dressed fastidiously, and bled at every pore for the common man but permitted his son, the child of his estranged wife, to toil as a leaf-raker on a relief project. He was a faithless fiduciary but only typical of a gang of ink-stained blackguards who, trusted with a mission to inform, have deceived the public instead.

"We discovered that 2,500 agents, stooges and minions of a foreign dictator were on the government payroll, occupying, in many instances, key positions in the State Department, the Justice Department and the Interior Department. I went down to the White House. I said: Mr. President, here is a list of these people. We have raided the organization and we have their membership records. There can't be any doubt about it. If you understand the Communists as I understand them, you will know that they are in the government for one purpose alone to steal important secrets and transmit them to Moscow.'

"The President was furious. I was amazed at his anger.

"'Well,' he said 'I have never seen a man that had such ideas. There is nothing wrong with the Communists. Some of the best friends I have got are Communists.' That is a truthful account. He made that statement.

"The President refused to discharge the Communists. I induced Congress to withhold appropriations to pay their salaries. The Executive Department defied Congress and refused to fire them. They were kept on the pay roll, when we were working on the atom bomb. And still there are people so dumb as to believe Stalin doesn't have the secret of the bomb. You may not realize it but in the White House, itself, one of the secretaries was a Communist."

In view of the alterations which were wrought in the reputation of John L. Lewis after he broke with Roosevelt in a jealous rage in 1940, Mr. Dies' statements on his attitude toward Communists in the C.I.O., of which Lewis was the first national chairman, are submitted as follows: "I was able to trace a number of Communists who went to Leningrad at the expense of the Moscow government and received special instructions in labor agitation and returned. When Lewis broke from the A. F. of L., he turned to these well-trained Communist agitators to form the rank and file of his organizers. Some 50,000 had joined unions to seize strategic positions. They controlled 21 C.I.O. international unions. Eighteen members of the executive board, the most powerful organization within the C.I.O., were members of the party. I telephoned John L. Lewis and went to his office. I knew Lee Pressman was a member. He was the chief attorney for Lewis."

Dies said he asked Lewis to cooperate to expel "stooges of a foreign dictator."

Lewis, he said, became angry and said: "The C.I.O. does not need you to tell us how to run it. Yes, we have Communists. We have Baptists, Methodists, Democrats and Republicans."

Workers Will Ballot

New York, Oct. 4 (AP)—The C.I.O. Steelworkers of America and the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers, which was expelled from the C.I.O., will ballot today for jurisdiction over some 1,200 workers in the Phelps Dodge Refining Corporation plant in Long Island City, the National Labor Relations Board announced last night. Local 541 of the I.U.M.M.S.W. has held the contract with that company, a board spokesman said. Voting will be underway at the plant from 6 a. m. to 6 p. m.

To Elect Officers

Rochester, N. Y., Oct. 4 (AP)—The New York State Congress of Parents and Teachers elects officers today, with Mrs. Charles L. Chapman of Niagara Falls unopposed for president. Others on a slate approved by about 1,000 delegates to the annual state convention last night are Mrs. Charles M. Eddy of Hornell and Mrs. Martin F. Huber of Eggertsville, vice-presidents and Mrs. John Valentine of Yonkers, secretary. The convention ends tonight.

Man and Wife Die

Cedar Grove, W. Va., Oct. 4 (AP)—An elderly man and his wife died within 15 minutes of each other yesterday, some 70 miles apart. Lewis Edward Bower, 79, former Charleston policeman and fireman, died at 11:55 a. m. in a Huntington hospital after an illness of nine months. The body of his wife, Mrs. Sally Bower, 68, was found about noon on a bed at the home of her daughter. Joint funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon.

A Frank Statement from A&P about BREAD

Almost Any Loaf of Bread You Buy Today Is a Good Loaf of Bread

Today's bread — made from enriched flour — is one of the best and least expensive sources of food energy you can buy. But bear in mind before you buy, that all breads are not the same. Quality of ingredients . . . baking methods . . . nutritional value are all vital factors you should know about in order to make the best choice for you and your family. It's smart to pick and choose when you buy bread.

A&P's MARVEL Bread Is Unsurpassed By Any Other Bread Among America's 10 Leading Brands

Unsurpassed for Flavor . . . because Marvel's specially rich formula calls for more expensive flour and the best quality ingredients obtainable.

Unexcelled for Softness . . . because Marvel is carefully blended and baked to give you the tender lightness of bread at its fine, fresh best. Marvel is baked and delivered fresh daily. The famous freshness date on every Marvel wrapper is your guarantee of absolutely fresh bread. Remember — when freshness fades, flavor fades.

Unbeatable for Value . . . because, penny for penny, no other bread among America's 10 leading brands gives you more for your money than Marvel.

We make no exaggerated claims for Marvel Bread. We use no secret process to produce it. Marvel goodness and freshness spring only from the use of finest ingredients, properly blended, and baked as carefully as you would bake at home.

But . . . Penny for Penny You Get More Nutritional Value in A&P's MARVEL Bread

Yes . . . for every penny you spend on Marvel bread, you get more nourishment than from any other bread among America's 10 leading brands. Marvel contains more body-building protein. More vitamins and minerals essential to the growth of children. More iron. More energy-producing calories and carbohydrates. And the enrichment benefits in every loaf of Marvel bread always exceed government requirements.

Reach For MARVEL—It's So Good Not One Of America's 10 Leading Brands Tops It—Or Double Your Money Back

We'll gladly give you double your money back, if you don't agree that no other bread among America's 10 leading brands offers a finer, fresher, more nutritious bread, and better value, than quality-rich Marvel Bread. Today—reach for Marvel—bread at its fresh, delicious best.

You Have Your Choice of 14 Different Varieties of Marvel Bread Every Day.

Sees World With Army; He's 19 Now And Without Legs

Boston, Oct. 4 (AP)—Bobby Mullen never wanted Mom and Dad to "worry and feel bad" and so he always concealed his boyhood hurts.

Bobby is 19 now. When he was out of high school at 17 he begged his parents to let him join the army and "see some of the world." Bobby has seen the world and now he's coming home. The letter from a ship homeward bound from Korea arrived last night.

But he had a hurt this time he couldn't conceal.

Mrs. Michael Mullen read his letter just a few words at a time because her tears kept blurring the writing:

"Dear Ma and Dad," she read: "I'm on my way home, but I'm bringing some bad news . . . I hope you don't take this so hard as some people would. . . . I went to Korea and got wounded in both legs. . . . They had to be amputated. . . . I only remember the explosion and the hospital at Inchon.

"I'm relieved to get away from it all, Mom and Dad, and there will be something to look forward to when I see you people again.

"The only thing I am worried about is you folks. . . .

"I don't want you to be worrying and going around with tears in your eyes. . . .

"The best years of my life are ahead of me."

There was another line: "Please excuse the handwriting as I am a bit shaky at present.

"Your loving son, Bob."

Local Death Record

Services for Henrietta Morton will be conducted tonight at 8 o'clock in the Conner Funeral Chapel, Fair street, by Unity Temple, 617, I.B.P.O.E. of W. of which she was a member.

The funeral of Mrs. Dora Werbalowsky, a former resident of Kingston who died Monday in New York, will be held Thursday at 12 noon from the Agudas Achim Synagogue. Burial will be in Montrepose cemetery.

Mrs. Margaret L. Hill, widow of Joseph S. Hill, who for many years was secretary of the Olive Mutual Fire Insurance Association, died at her home, 29 Warren street, Tuesday. Surviving are two step-daughters, Mrs. Marie Lapp, Hudson, and Mrs. Eva Burre, St. Louis, Mo., and five nieces. Funeral services will be held at the home, 29 Warren street, Friday at 2 p. m., conducted by the Rev. William R. Peckham. Burial will be in Tongore cemetery.

Samuel Gade of Saugerties, vice president and general manager of the American Valve Co., of Coxsackie, died Tuesday at the Kingston Hospital following an illness of two weeks. He had resided in Saugerties for 16 years. Prior to his work in Coxsackie, Gade was president of the Hudson Brass Works of Brooklyn and was a partner in the Ross-Gade Manufacturing Co., manufacturers of metal bathroom fixtures. He is survived by his wife, Lillian Gittler Gade; a daughter, Mrs. Lester A. Sonking, Saugerties; a son, Dr. Herbert E. Gade; three grandchildren, Jeffrey, Ellery Sonking and Hilarie Gade; and two brothers, Abram Gade, Catskill, and George Gade, New York. Funeral services will be held from the M. A. Galietta Funeral Home, 650 Delaware avenue at Broadway, Thursday at 2 p. m. Burial services will be held at the receiving vault in Wiltwyck cemetery. Burial will take place in the family plot in Montrepose cemetery at the convenience of the family.

Eight Cases Are

ough, against Klemens and Fanny Marconkowski, New York, this morning when the defendant failed to put in an appearance. George Rusk appeared for the plaintiff and an inquest was taken resulting in judgment for the plaintiff in the sum of $204.45 for damage to plaintiff's car which was in collision with the defendants car back in May, 1948. Plaintiff testified he was about to turn off Route 9-W when his car was struck and damaged. Defendant promised to pay for the damage, the plaintiff testified, but never did. Justice Schirick dismissed a counter claim brought by defendant and directed judgment for plaintiff in the sum of $204.45.

Cases settled included:

No. 36, DeForest Bishop, High Falls, against Eagle Bus Line, Inc., negligence.

No. 44, Thomas Polizzi against Edgar Williamson and another, negligence.

No. 51, Jacob Gordon and another against Joseph Shea, breach of warrant.

No. 52, Catherine Kenny against Charles Kenny, separation.

No. 57, William Soura and another against Anthony Mirabelli and another, negligence.

No. 78, Ernest Schmidt against E. E. Pratt, to recover for services rendered.

No. 173, Anna S. Berry against Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corporation and another, an action to compel determination of claims to real property.

No. 455, A. Jerome Pratt and another against Frigid Food Sales and another, negligence.

Saugerties Firm Is Reported Sold

The Tissue Company of Saugerties has been sold to Howard Perlman, of Brooklyn, it was announced Oct. 2, by Holley R. Cantine, president of the Martin Cantine Co.

The name of the firm, which has operated since 1912, will be the Napkin Corporation, the announcement said. It makes napkins and tray covers and will continue producing them along with other specialties.

Organize to Fight Communism

Promote America At Home Is Plan Of Local Groups

At a meeting Tuesday night in B'nai B'rith clubhouse on Wall street, attended by representatives of 15 local organizations, there was formed the Kingston Joint Americanism Committee to stifle the spread of communism in the United States.

Joseph Honig, one of the city's leading manufacturers, a commissioner of the Board of Public Works, and member of Kingston Post, 150, American Legion; the 40 & 8, Legion honor society; and Kingston Lodge of B'nai B'rith is general chairman.

Last night's meeting was called on invitations from two committees from B'nai B'rith, the Americanism group headed by Meyer Kaplan and Anti-Defamation League, led by Attorney Arthur B. Ewig.

In attendance were representatives of Kingston Post, American Legion: Joyce-Schirick Post, 1386, Veterans of Foreign Wars; Kingston Council, 275, Knights of Columbus; Kiwanis Club, Lions Club, Rotary Club, Boy Scouts of America, Independent Order of Odd Fellows; Zionist Organization of America, Port Ewen Fife and Drum Corps, Esopus Post, 1298, American Legion; Reserve Officers Association; La Societe 40 & 8 and B'nai B'rith.

Representatives from several other organizations were unable to attend, but are expected to be present at the next meeting on October 9 at 8 p. m. in the memorial building of Kingston Post American Legion on West O'Reilly street.

Ladies' auxiliaries of the organizations are invited to take part in the program and to attend the meeting.

Herbert Greenwald, secretary of the Joint Committee, said the aims and purposes of the new organization is to promote America in America, to check the spread of communism at home. He likened the plan to that of the Voice of America being used to spread democracy over the world.

At the October 9th meeting plans will be discussed for a community rally to be held at Kingston High School Auditorium featuring a national figure as the principal speaker.

In Less Than Month

Hazleton, Pa., Oct. 4 (AP)—California to Korea to Massachusetts to New York city—all in less than a month. That's the rapid-transit war story of Corporal Nicholas Damato, 27, Hazleton, who was wounded in action September 14, nine days after he boarded a troop plane in California for the trip to the Korean front. Today, 29 days after he left California, Damato phoned his father, James Damato, international board representative for the United Mine Workers of America, that he had just landed at Westover Field, Mass., and was en route to a New York veterans hospital for additional treatment.

Grease Catches Fire

Firemen were called at 11:04 a. m., today to 199 Downs street where grease in a gas range vent in the apartment of Kenneth Snyder had ignited. The blaze was checked by Mrs. Snyder before the arrival of firemen.

Today's Business Mirror

By Sam Dawson

New York, Oct. 4 (AP)—A bubble-up in the money affairs of citizens and nations today reflects the surge of inflation.

Uncle Sam's books have gone into the black since the outbreak of the Korean war—although he has laid himself out to pay huge sums for defense in the future.

Britain and other nations in the sterling area have more than doubled their hoard of gold and dollar reserves in a year, with the Korean war giving promise of a richer golden stream ahead.

Canada's reserves of U. S. dollars is also swelling as Uncle Sam rearms, and its own dollar looks better and better to American investors.

In this country the money supply is at a new peak. A spurt in bank credit—part to finance expanding industrial activity, part to underwrite consumer credit and instalment paper—has sent the volume of bank deposits and money in the hands of individuals to $171.1 billion, an all-time high, the Federal Reserve Board reports.

Gain Over Billion

This was a gain of $1.4 billion since the war started, and a jump of $790 million in the month of August. The board says only $100 million of the August gain was in currency in people's pockets. Demand deposits rose $900 million. From this total gain of $1 billion the board deducts a fall in time deposits of $200 million and in postal savings deposits of $100 million.

This see-sawing of deposits, credit, savings and money apparently gives another indication that people have been dipping into their savings to buy consumer goods. The rise in demand deposits is due, among other things, to the rush of money through the channels of trade as buying increased all along the line from retail stores to suppliers of raw materials. It is also due to reflects the money banks lent corporations to finance this trade and production.

Drop Underway

The Securities and Exchange Commission notes today that this same drop in savings was well underway before the war. Reporting on the months of April, May and June, S.E.C. finds that Americans were saving $200 million less in "liquid" savings than in the same months of 1949.

The contrast with prewar years was even more striking. In the first half of this year Americans were saving in "liquid" form only one per cent of income after taxes, but in 1940 they were saving almost six per cent. S.E.C. defines "liquid" savings as currency and bank deposits, equity in Saving and Loan Associations, insurance, pension reserves, securities and repayment of mortgage debt and other consumer debt.

Made Best Showing

On this list, insurance and pension reserves made the best showing this year, rising to $1.3 billion. S.E.C. notes that an important form of non-liquid saving—purchases of homes—was way ahead of former years.

The U. S. Treasury's going into the black for better than $296 million in the first three months of the Korean war is traced in part to diminished government spending, but in much greater amount to increased tax receipts. These came from increased incomes of corporations and individuals—at the old tax rates—as inflation got going strong. The new higher tax rates are not yet reflected in treasury receipts.

Government spending, however, will soon start up again. Only a few of the rearmament orders have been let yet, and even these won't be paid for until the goods are delivered, which can be months from now.

But the first effects of inflation are already being felt widely in rising prices. People have more money to spend, as industrial activity holds its record pace, but they have to spend more to live, and they save less. The new and higher taxes on the way will leave them less to spend, and certainly less to save.

Model Railroad Show Plans Near Complete for 15th

Preparations for the eighth annual show of the Kingston Model Railroad Club are now in the final stages, according to H. Hudson Cramer, president of the club, who revealed plans for the affair which will open Sunday October 15, at 2:30 p. m. at the club's quarters at 541 Broadway.

"This year's exhibition will feature much new equipment and additional scenery," stated the club leader, "and we feel certain that our ever-growing group of patrons will find additional enjoyment in viewing operations on our scale model miniature railroad system."

The show will open on Sunday October 15, and continue evenings throughout the week, ending with an afternoon and evening performance on Sunday, October 22. Entrance to the clubhouse where the show is held is by a roadway off Broadway between the West Shore freight house and the McGill coal yard. Continuous performances of the complete railroad system are given each evening from 7:30 until 10 p. m. and the two Sundays from 2:30 until 10 p. m.

Asked concerning the small admission fee charged for the affair, Club President Cramer stated that all proceeds were used in enlarging the model railroad and keeping its clubhouse in repair. "This club is a mutual benefit, non-profit hobby organization," said Cramer.

Marine Casualties 2,357

Washington, Oct. 4 (AP)—The Marine Corps reported today that its casualties in the Korean war through September 25 totaled 2,357 in dead, wounded, missing and non-battle casualties. Maj. Gen. Merwin H. Silverthorn, marine corps assistant commandant, said the casualties were 346 killed in battle, 66 died of wounds, 1,901 wounded but lived, 30 missing in action, and 14 non-battle casualties. He said the marine corps now has 31,527 men in the Korean war theatre.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Oct. 4 (AP)—Chrysler started a stock market rally today single handed and itself ran up more than $3 to a new high for the year.

The whole market was rocking along quietly in the first hour when sudden buying demand for Chrysler perked up interest all along the line. Gains generally were a few cents to more than $1 and $2 a share.

Attention is being focused on Chrysler, brokers said, because of its earnings possibilities in relation to the rest of the industry.

General Motors followed right along and went more than $2 higher at times.

Steels, led by U. S. Steel, joined in the rise and added as much as a dollar at best.

Oils, rubbers, aircrafts, and radio-television issues promptly followed suit in the advance.

Nickel Plate started upward today just a little prior to the rest of the market. Nickel Plate's $20.50 rise Monday heralded a new average high in the market, and its $14 fall yesterday accompanied a market decline, which led one wag to remark:

"As Nickel Plate goes, so goes the market."

Coca-Cola jumped $7.50 to $135 along with reports of an increase to 10 cents a bottle for coke by a number of Louisiana retailers. Five and six cents has been standard price for coke heretofore.

Profit-taking held back the bond market, and U. S. Treasuries were unchanged in the over-the-counter market.

Judge Bares 'Secret' Red Documents

Judge Michael A. Musmanno (above), of Pittsburgh, Pa., goes over photostatic copies of documents he says he confiscated in the desk of Steve Nelson, Western Pennsylvania Communist party chairman, when Nelson was arrested a month ago. The document is a copy of a letter—written on stationery of the Communist party of the U. S.—containing instructions for organization of "functional meetings" within "all phases of mass work." Relyea Requests Traffic Light at Fair, St. James Alderman Abram D. Relyea, 11th Ward, through a resolution introduced at last night's Common Council session, asked that a traffic light be installed at Fair and St. James streets.

Accidents at the intersection, the resolution said, are "getting to be almost a daily occurrence," and it advised that if no money is available for the light that the stop-sign ordinance be enforced to the extent of a $10 fine.

"At least let us do something about it," the alderman concluded. It was referred to the traffic committee.

A resolution by Alderman Edwin Radel asked that a light be replaced on a pole on Stephan street between Hazel and Farrelly streets; that a stop-sign be placed at Wood street and Clifton avenue, and a light be placed on Florence street extension between Lincoln street and the street's end. The light proposals were referred to the B.P.W. and the stop-sign to the traffic committee.

The 70th annual convention of the Ulster County W.C.T.U. will be held Friday, Oct. 6, at the New Paltz Reformed Church, Mrs. George Shultis, president, will preside.

After a word of welcome from the Rev. G. J. Wullschleger, pastor of the host church, Mrs. Raymond Hasbrouck, president of the New Paltz unit, will speak. The junior choir will offer special music in the afternoon as another feature.

During the morning session, county directors of the various departments will review what local directors have accomplished during the year.

New officers for the W.C.T.U. will be elected in the afternoon session. Each local union will submit candidates for the offices.

The memorial service will be in charge of Mrs. Arthur Ingraham. Before the convention concludes, the president will present a review of the year's work.

Box lunches will be enjoyed at noon. The New Paltz women will serve coffee.

The Story of Your Newspaper

The Freeman Business Office

American Newspapers—Truth to a Free People

Like most every large commercial establishment, The Freeman has a business office and delivery department, which in the case of a newspaper is a circulation department. In this third of a series of articles on "The Making of a Newspaper," which is being published in conjunction with the observance of National Newspaper Week, we next visit this department.

In the two foregoing articles we have briefly sketched the editorial and advertising departments. First it becomes necessary to secure the news, see that it is timely and well-written so people will want to read it. This will provide sufficient circulation to enable your newspaper to charge rates for advertising to provide a living for the people who work on the paper and enable the paper to operate.

In order to do this accounts must be kept, both payable and receivable, supplies for the entire plant must be ordered, payrolls must be made up, taxes must be deducted from the weekly paychecks for the withholding taxes, inventories of every item in the building must be kept.

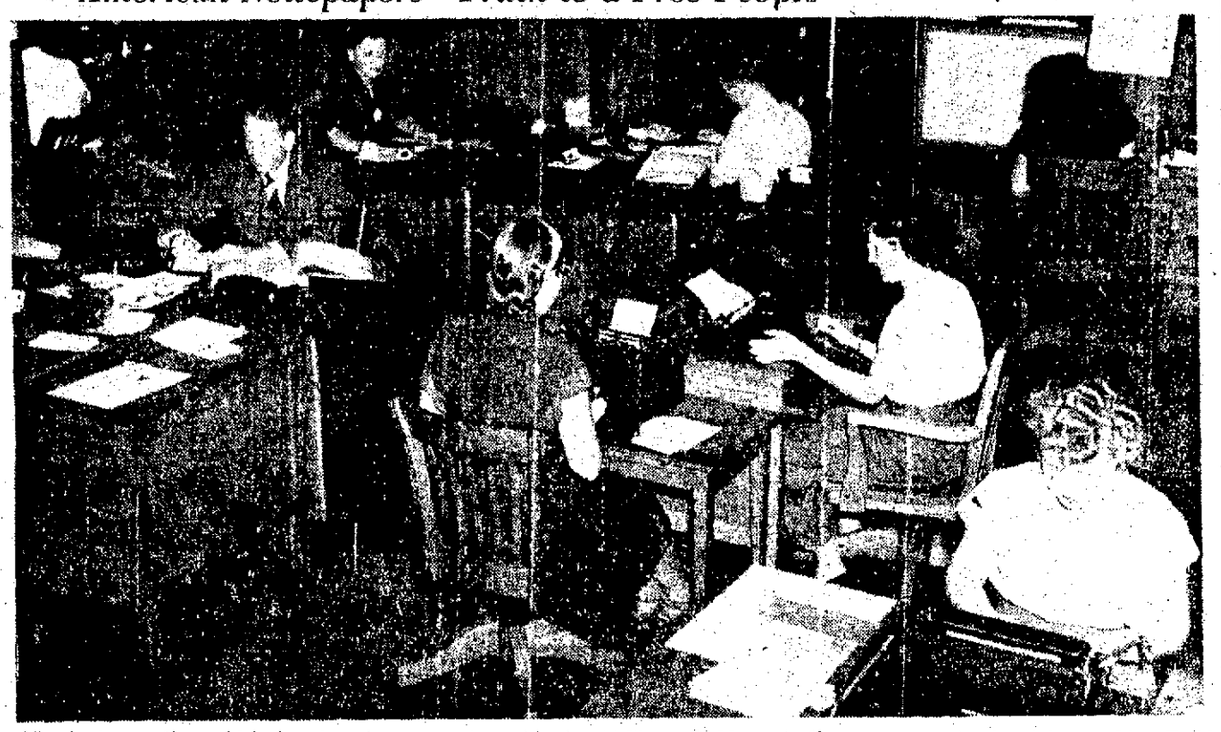

Also in this department is The Freeman switchboard, which handles hundreds of incoming and outgoing calls daily. The classified ad department uses the telephone extensively as does the editorial staff. It is impossible for the editorial workers to be on the spot in person for every news event, so the telephone becomes an indispensable part of the news-gathering organization.

If the newspaper didn't get to its subscribers, all the work in the production of a daily newspaper would be futile. This job is up to the circulation department. In the business office subscriptions are handled, records on deliveries to dealers and carrier boys are kept and the mailing list kept up to date.

In the rural areas, a Freeman representative of the circulation department visits the subscribers for renewals and for other desired services.

With these three functions is the all-important public service to each person who contacts the paper in whatever way. The business department also plays its part in this field.

When all these problems are coordinated and solved, then there is the integration of the mechanical departments, which will be touched upon in subsequent articles.

The business office, which functions in cooperation with the other departments in "The Making of a Newspaper," is shown above. Members of the staff at the main office are: In the rear, left to right, Fred Peters in charge of the Adult Bureau of Circulation records; Mrs. J. Wolfersteig, cashier; Robert Hillis, bookkeeper; Miss Joan Woinoski, office assistant. In the center is Harry S. Hutton, office manager. At the right are Mrs. E. M. Hicks, telephone operator; Miss Betty DeCicco, classified ads; Miss Virginia Lee, classified clerk. Miss Audrey Britcliffe, classified clerk, is not shown in the picture.

At the branch office on Fair street, Mark Cornwell, not shown in the picture, is clerk of the business office there.

Has No Objections

Bangkok, Thailand, Oct. 4 (AP)—A spokesman said today Thailand has no objections to Thai troops going into Red North Korea if ordered by the United Nations. General MacArthur has been asked to send transport planes here for the first elements of 5,000 Thai expeditionary troops preparing to leave for Korea.

Pitching Horseshoes

By BILLY ROSE

LACQUERING THE LILY

Three years ago Edith Piaf stepped out on the stage of a midtown theatre and for the best part of an hour hypnotized a hep Broadway audience with her gutty little songs of love and larceny in the back alleys of Paris. As I remember it, she was wearing a bleak and bedraggled dress which showed quite a bit of her spindley legs, and her mop of black hair looked like something a self-respecting pussycat wouldn't drag in. Nevertheless, there was something endearing and authentic about this chanteuse from the Montmartre slums, and though everything she did was appallingly untheatrical, by some emotional chemistry it became great theatre. And when she finally begged off, no one in the house bravoed louder than I.

A couple of weeks ago I heard Miss Piaf sing again, this time at the opening of the Club Versailles, and though her songs and mannerisms were pretty much the same I found myself applauding respectfully rather than rambunctiously. She was still the great performer—expert, sure of every gesture and inflection—but it seemed to me that a lot of the heat and heart had gone out of her act. And as I walked home that night I couldn't help but wonder what was missing in her performance that had been there before.

Well, I've been mulling it a bit and I don't think anything is missing. The trouble, as I see it, is that something has been added several somethings, as a matter of fact. And on the off-chance that this talented lady is too close to the forest to see the cheese, I'd like to tell her what these somethings are.

To begin with, the dowdy little dress has been replaced by a snappy black creation which looks as if it might have come from the drawing board of Jacques Fath. It's easy, of course, to understand how this happened—Miss Piaf is now earning several thousand dollars a week and can afford a lot of glad rags. But, in one man's opinion, the glad rags on her are as wrong as top hat and tails would be on Ed Wynn.

Next, her hair: The memorable trademark which set her apart from the rest of the song singers is gone. Virtually all the character has been combed and coiffed away, and as a result a lot of the drama has gone out of the face beneath it—just about what would happen to Chaplin if he shaved off his mustache or to Durante if he had a schnozz-bob.

The same prettifying treatment has been applied to Miss Piaf's orchestrations, choral backgrounds and lighting, and the end result is that one can no longer see the gamin for the glamour. In other words, in sacrificing naturalness for window dressing, Edith—or those who handle her—has made the same mistake which has lessened the effectiveness of many a fine performer.

Of course Miss Piaf might argue with some logic that I ought to hold my tongue and typewriter, seeing as how she's packing 'em in at the Versailles. Well, my comeback to that one is simple: She was packing 'em in before she added the gloss, and was doing it with artistry rather than abracadabra.

I hope the little lady doesn't get me wrong—in my book she's still one of our top performers. I doubt, however, whether she's going to hit me where I cheer again until she scrapes off the varnish and goes back to being the spindly-legged song singer that Maurice Chevalier discovered in a two-franc bistro.

The talented Piaf is about five feet tall and, to make a small joke, it seems downright silly to gild the Lilliputian.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Confused Pair Set 1830 Points

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for N.E.A. Service

When Doubling Dan and Bill, the bold bad bidder, cut as partners, anything is likely to happen to them, and frequently does. Bill likes to bid without having his values, and Dan likes to double without having his double, and when each takes his favorite action on the same hand, the expense is terrific.

Consider this catastrophy. Let's start with Bill's double of two spades. He certainly was shy in high cards, but he was void of spades and hoped to be able either to sacrifice cheaply at four or maybe five in any suit his partner could bid or possibly to push his opponents one too high.

South's jump to four spades was a very clever bid and based on the fact that he knew Doubling Dan was sitting in back of him. He didn't really expect to get doubled, but one can always hope.

Dan's double of four spades was downright silly. True, he did have two aces, and if they both made and his partner could also take two tricks, he would set the hand. However, he was playing with Bill the Bold Bad Bidder and Bill had passed originally. Finally, he must have known that he could not possibly beat the hand two tricks and should have been perfectly happy if he could beat it one.

When North redoubled, poor Bill wanted to run; away from the redouble, the club where he was playing, and possibly the country, but he had not place to go. Furthermore, he was void of spades and there always was a chance that for once in his miserable life, Dan had a really sound double with five good spades.

Dan opened a small trump. Declarer knocked out the ace of diamonds, discarded one of dummy's clubs on his diamonds and had no trouble making his contract with two overtricks, for a total score of 1830 points on the hand.

It is worthy of note that Bill and Dan would not have been in any great trouble at five clubs had they chosen to bid it. South would lead the king of diamonds and would continue that suit when he got in with the ace of trumps. Unless North would make the brilliant play of trumping in on one of South's high diamonds and returning a heart, Bill would only be down one trick, while even that best defense would only set him two.

Thanked for Solicitude

Tokyo, Oct. 4 (AP)—The Japanese government thanked General MacArthur and the Allied Council for Japan today for their solicitude on repatriation of Japanese war prisoners from Russia. The Japanese Ministry of Foreign Affairs said further encouragement is given by the fact the question of the repatriation of some 370,000 prisoners still not accounted for is to be taken up by the General Assembly of the United Nations.

Is This Your Impression Of The Average Newspaperboy?

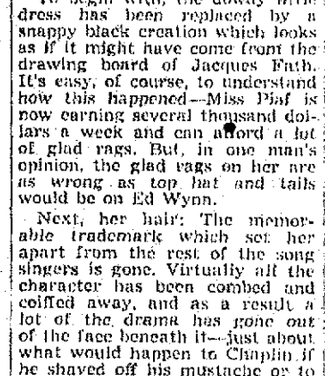

When you think of a newspaperboy do you think of the occasional ragamuffin you used to see on some street corner?...Or do you think of the cleancut, ambitious young fellow who regularly brings the paper to your home?

Today's average newspaperboy is a young fellow who is dependable, honest and desirous of earning his own money. He is gaining invaluable experience...practical experience, in addition to his regular school studies. . . . Did you know that most newspapers require a boy to have an above average record in school before a route is leased to him? And for a very good reason, the brighter fellows make the best carriers.

Newspapers work very closely with school authorities and with the parents of the boys. It is realized that teenage boys need careful guidance and assistance.

Albany Man Is Civil Service Head

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 4 (P)—Jesse B. McFarland of Albany is the new president of the 50,000-member Civil Service Employes Association.

McFarland's election was announced last night at the final session of the association's two-day convention here. He was chosen by mail balloting to succeed Frank L. Tolman.

The association voted to ask for a flat 15-per-cent pay increase plus a cost-of-living allowance for 70,000 state workers.

The allowance would be an automatic adjustment of [illegible] per cent for each five point change in the consumer price index since last April 1.

The association said the increases were needed to boost state salaries to the level of those in private industry.

On Monday, Governor Dewey ordered a survey to determine salary needs of teachers and state workers. Dewey said he would sponsor any needed raise in the 1951 Legislature if re-elected for a third term.

Other officers elected include John J. Powers, Freehold, L. I., first vice president, and J. Allyn Stearns, White Plains, third vice president.

Fonda Will Leave Play

New York, Oct. 4 (AP)—Henry Fonda, who has not missed a single performance in his starring role in "Mister Roberts" since the play opened on Broadway in February, 1948, will leave the cast October 28. A torn right knee cartilage makes an operation mandatory. Surgery will confine him to the hospital for three weeks and he will take nine weeks to recuperate. Then he will join a road company production of the play. Fonda's Broadway role will be filled by John Forsythe, who played it in the traveling company of the play.

Reports Are Confirmed

Athens, Greece, Oct. 4 (AP)—Premier Sophocles Venizelos today confirmed press reports that Greece and Turkey have begun negotiations for a mutual defense pact. Efforts are being made, Venizelos added, to expand the talks into plans for a regional organization. Observers said such an organization probably would include Italy and Yugoslavia.

'G.O.P. Caravan' Puts on Skit

Did the Republicans Do That?" was the title of a skit performed last night by the traveling "G.O.P. Caravan" before a meeting of the Ulster County Women's Republican Club at the Governor Clinton Hotel. Watching the three young actors are (left) Mrs. Alma Kitchell, famed broadcaster and director of "The 100,000," who was guest speaker at the meeting, and (in background) Mrs. Vincent Connelly, prominent local Republican. "The 100,000" is the title of a Republican drive to enlist 100,000 New York state women in behalf of better government. The three actors are, left to right, Patricia Wyn Rose scolding her husband, Fred Carmichael, because of the high price of milk. At right is Dee Stemph playing the role of a Republican worker. (Freeman Photo)

WOODSTOCK NEWS

By RICHARD E. THIBAUT, JR.

Dr. Shotwell Speaks At Carnegie Dinner

Woodstock, Oct. 4—Dr. James T. Shotwell of Woodstock, president-emeritus of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace, spoke at a dinner at the Waldorf-Astoria Monday night to honor the endowment's new president, Dr. Joseph E. Johnson. According to an account in Tuesday's New York Herald Tribune, Dr. Shotwell said that business men or labor leaders who by their policies heighten the danger of inflation are economic Quislings.

Dr. Shotwell said the producer or distributor of essential goods who either holds them back for later profits or raises prices beyond the capacity of the normal purchasing market is the economic parallel to political Quislings and serves the cause of communism equally well.

He said this was equally true of any extreme demands of labor beyond what the normal labor market should bring or what is needed to maintain a standard of living consonant with the rest of society. He said that guarding the country against inflation was, "next to adequate military defense, the most important thing we can do" and that it was necessary to strengthen the country's domestic defenses "by policies strong enough to prevent a weakening of our economic structure."

Ruggles' Work Given Review by Burrows

Woodstock, Oct. 4—Carlyle Burrows, art critic of the New York Herald Tribune, included a review of the current exhibition of paintings by John Ruggles of Woodstock in his column Sunday.

John Ruggles, he said, "in his first New York show at the Artists gallery demonstrates familiarity with several techniques while developing an abstract approach to natural landscape themes. Considerable progress is manifest from his dealing with simple, conventional stylization, through a considered and sensitive pointillist approach to his present technique. A light linear accent is observable and a neat stressing of the vibrancy of crisply used colors. While his work remains essentially objective the interpretation is refreshingly individual."

Artists in Show

Woodstock, Oct. 4—A number of prominent Woodstock artists are among those whose work is included in the first exhibition now on view at the new Ganso Gallery in New York. Following the opening Sunday, a painting by Jenne Magafan, "Back Fence," was sold as well as a piece of sculpture by Tomas Penning. The exhibition will remain at the gallery through October 28.

FOR EYES AND EARS—The tiny brooch pinned to the blouse of this New York model is actually part of a hearing aid. The brooch is a microphone, minus tell-tale cords, designed for hard-of-hearing women who wish to conceal their deafness.

N.Y.U. to Give Courses at K.H.S.

New York, N. Y.—A special college course conducted by the School of Education of New York University in cooperation with the Kingston Public Schools will begin Tuesday (October 10) evening at the Kingston High School from 7 to 9 p. m.

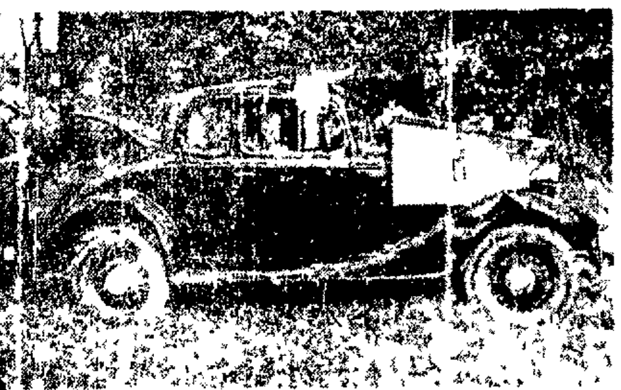

As part of the University's Off-Campus Program, the graduate course which carries full academic credit is offered to those residents in the Kingston area who wish to take college subjects, but cannot make the trip to New York city in order to further their education.

According to Professor Samuel P. McCutchen, who will teach "Geography in World Affairs," most of the problems of the contemporary world have a geographical basis which it is the function of the course to explore. The group will discuss the Geopolitics of matters of international concern with special emphasis on the Eastern Hemisphere. Class will meet on 15 Tuesdays.

Further information may be obtained from Mr. Leo Dahoney at the Kingston High School.

The off-campus program of the University also includes courses offered in New Jersey, Maryland, Pennsylvania, Washington, D. C. and other parts of New York.

Car Upsets, Injuring Three

Three elderly farmhands suffered painful injuries when this coupe overturned on the Springtown road Tuesday afternoon. Police said the operator, Daniel Washburn, 63, lost control. Riding with him were Maximillian Sachs, 66, and Joachim Hansen, 76. All were employed on the Hillside Farm, New Paltz. (Freeman Photo)

Calls Italy 'Bulwark'

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 4 (AP)—Governor Dewey calls Italy "a bulwark of freedom in the Mediterranean." He made the statement yesterday in a proclamation designating October 12 Columbus Day in New York state. The governor said Columbus' discovery of America in 1492 had "opened the door to millions of the oppressed and unfortunate who found in the New World such freedom and opportunity as had never existed before."

Immanuel Church To Celebrate 80th Anniversary Oct. 8

Immanuel Evangelical Lutheran Church, this city, will commemorate its 80th anniversary in a special service of thanksgiving next Sunday, Oct. 8. The festival service will begin at 11 a. m.

The Rev. Paul A. Boriack, pastor of St. John's Lutheran Church in Rome will preach the sermon and the Rev. Ernest L. Witte will serve as the liturgist.

Pastor Boriack will preach on the theme, "Our Glorious Immanuel for 80 Years," using as a text Psalm 81: 1-2. The speaker has been quoted as saying that he will appeal to Immanuel congregation to "freely acknowledge the gracious benediction of God to which it must ascribe its continued existence over this long span of years." He also will voice the plea "that Immanuel may solemnly vow to continue its mission of making known the will and counsel of God through Christ, as it is revealed in Holy Scriptures." He has become widely and favorably known as a forceful speaker through his extensive field activities in behalf of the world-wide religious broadcast "The Lutheran Hour" which is heard locally every Sunday over Station WKNY.

The Rev. Mr. Boriack was born in Texas and graduated from Concordia Theological Seminary, St. Louis, Mo., in 1930. During the year that he served with the Rev. O. F. Engelbrecht at Luther Memorial Chapel he conducted his own radio program weekly over Station KFUO, St. Louis, Mo., the station from which the Lutheran Hour originates. During his ministry he has served congregations in Rutherfordton and Marion, N. C. At Spartansburg, S. C., he established a Lutheran Center and served as contact key pastor for about two years. He also served a congregation at Hilton. At the present time he is pastor at St. John's Lutheran Church, Rome, and also the student pastor at Oneonta. He is the director of public relations for the Lutheran Hour in the Atlantic and Eastern Districts. The Rev. Mr. Boriack is married and has five children.

Immanuel congregation cordially invites the public to attend its anniversary service next Sunday morning.

Many Thousands

their throats slashed with knives or their heads split with axes."

U. S. army investigators, who found about 800 bodies in a mass grave late yesterday, had reported many of the victims were shot. The survivor said he does not recall hearing any shots.

At the village of Chunkyong, southern suburb of Kunsan, survivors told U. N. investigators yesterday that pro-Communist South Koreans stabbed 82 South Koreans dead with bamboo spears Monday and fled into the hills.

These atrocity victims are in addition to untold thousands of South Koreans slain at other cities.

Guerrilla Warfare

force could be taken — a unit and disarmed by the United Nations.

The Korean Reds have continued to fight fiercely and may well maintain that pattern even if they lose control of key points and major transportation routes which an organized army would require for its operations.

Moreover, the mountainous and relatively primitive countryside offers excellent terrain for guerrilla hit-and-run tactics.

Greek Communists aided by Soviet satellites on Greece's northern border waged a three-year fight against their country's government. In Indo-China the pattern of Communist conquest has followed guerrilla strategy, and the Chinese Reds themselves were at one time a small minority force penned in the mountainous area of northwest China by the troops of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek.

Strike Is Ordered

Newark, N. J., Oct. 4 (AP)—Union leaders today ordered 10,000 New Jersey Bell Telephone operators to strike Friday morning at 6 a. m. The strike call was announced by the union's executive board after an emergency meeting this morning. The board met for more than an hour and a half to consider an undisclosed peace proposal made by the state, then came out of the meeting to announce the strike vote.

Electronics Parley Attended by 35; Binghamton in '51

At the recent convention of the Empire State Federation of Electronic Technicians Association here, it was decided to continue and put more emphasis on the educational program sponsored by the organization in cooperation with various radio, television and equipment manufacturers.

Secretary Charles A. Kohl, secretary of the Kingston Radio Servicemen's Association, made the announcement to this effect, and informed the press that the 1951 convention would be held in Binghamton during January.

There were 35 delegates, alternates, observers and guests at the local gathering held in Cuneo's Restaurant on Broadway where an excellent dinner was enjoyed.

The business session was presided over by President Max Leibowitz of New York and included the reports of Secretary Waynen Shaw of Binghamton and Ben De Young, treasurer, of Ithaca. The certificate of incorporation was passed around for inspection and comment from the delegates and alternates.

The delegates and alternates came from New York city, Binghamton, Ithaca, Beacon, Westchester, Cottekill, Long Island, Poughkeepsie, Kingson and Endicott.

EAT WELL for Less

MILK DRINKS FOR CHILD HEALTH

BY GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

Milk is one of the most economical forms of nutrition for your growing children. A quart a day furnishes the amount of calcium needed for a child daily, as well as other important nutrients. Like all dairy foods, milk is an essential part of the child's diet.

Give the child a glass at each meal. The fourth glass (to make up the quart) can be served in cooked foods or after school in popular milk drinks.

Caramel Milk Shake
(Serves 4)

Four cups milk, pinch salt, 4 tablespoons caramel syrup, vanilla ice cream or whipped cream.

Combine all ingredients and shake vigorously. Serve cold with a spoonful of vanilla ice cream, or hot with a spoonful of whipped cream.

To make caramel syrup: Dissolve 2 cups sugar in ½ cup water (preferably in an aluminum pan). Cover and boil rapidly until syrup thickens. Remove cover and cook over low heat until syrup is amber color. Remove from heat and slowly add one cup boiling water.

Return to heat and continue to cook over low heat until caramel melts (about 3 or 4 minutes). Makes about 1½ cups. Store in a tightly covered jar in a cool place.

Milk 'n' Honey
(Serves 4)

Four cups milk, 6 tablespoons honey, pinch salt, 2 eggs, well beaten.

Add milk, honey and salt to beaten eggs. Shake well and serve.

Chocolate Whip
(Serves 6)

Two squares bitter chocolate, 1 cup hot water, 1/3 cup sugar, 5 cups milk, ¼ teaspoon vanilla, 1 egg white, 2 tablespoons sugar.

Melt chocolate in top of double boiler. Add hot water and cook over direct heat until slightly thickened, stirring constantly. Add sugar and milk. Return to bottom half of double boiler and allow to cook 5 minutes longer; chill.

Beat egg white until stiff. Gradually add sugar and continue beating until stiff and dry. Add vanilla. Fold beaten egg white into chilled chocolate milk mixture just before pouring into individual glasses.

TOMORROW'S MENU

BREAKFAST: Fruit bowl (apples, grapes, pears), ready-to-eat cereal, raisin toast, butter or fortified margarine, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Scalloped eggs with cheese, pickle relish, enriched bread, butter or fortified margarine, frosted devil's food cup cakes, tea, milk.

DINNER: Eggplant stuffed with ground leftover ham, rye bread, butter or fortified margarine, lettuce wedges, Russian dressing, steamed apricot pudding, foamy sauce, coffee, milk.

The Rev. J. T. Keating Dies

New York, Oct. 4 (AP)—The Rev. Joseph T. Keating, 79, treasurer of Fordham University for 38 years, died suddenly yesterday at the university. A native of Ingersoll, Ontario, Father Keating studied at Holy Cross College, the Jesuit novitiate at Frederick, Md., Woodstock, Md., college, and St. Andrew-on-Hudson, Poughkeepsie, N. Y. He taught mathematics at Holy Cross for four years before he was ordained a priest in 1906. Then he taught at Boston College for a time.

Council to Issue

$15.50 for a broken windshield which he said was caused by a ball during a game at Hasbrouck Park.

Letters from Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk announced the reappointment of Joseph E. Honig, 309 Albany avenue, to the Board of Public Works, and of Dr. Leonard A. McCambridge to the Zoning Board.

Requests Are Granted

Requests for zoning changes were granted to Donald Swan of the Kingston Ice Co., Inc., 478 Albany avenue, who said he planned to sell a portion of property at 472-80 Albany avenue for the building of a garage, and to George A. Dempsey, 231 Hasbrouck avenue, who plans to enlarge his gasoline station.

A petition by the Irving Levine Bag Co., 65-67 Hunter street, for a zoning change in preparation for the building of a garage on Hunter street, was referred to the Laws and Rules Committee.

A petition in opposition to a request for a zoning change filed by Karl Kilmer, 346 South Wall street, was also referred to the Laws and Rules Committee.

Change Is Opposed

The petition signed by about a dozen residents of the 11th Ward, said they objected to having the property designated as in the business zone, and added "We also wish to have him stop repairing cars and trucks in the driveway and on the street as the smoke and noise creates an unhealthy condition and is a nuisance."

A letter from William L. and Ethel B. Haller, addressed to Alderman Abram D. Relyea, 11th Ward, also opposed the Kilmer petition.

Petitions of two bus lines were referred to the Railroad and Bus Committee. The Adirondack Transit Lines, Inc., asked consent to operate over Grand street, between Broadway and Foxhall avenue, and on Foxhall between Broadway and Albany avenue; and VanGansic Brothers asked Common Council sanction on an operating under the name of Arrow Bus Line.

The councilmen before adjourning voted to send a message of condolence to Fourth Ward Alderman John [illegible], who was absent because of the death of a brother.

Artists Will Meet

The Ulster County Artists Association will meet at the Governor Clinton Hotel Thursday at 7:30 p. m. to make arrangements to celebrate American Art Week. All members are requested to attend this important meeting.

Hicks Will Try His Own Case in Federal Court

New York, Oct. 4 (Special)—Donald Hicks of 131 Abeel street, Kingston, now serving 15 to 40 years for a Beacon armed robbery, appeared in Federal Court here today to insist he would conduct his own defense against a federal receiving charge and demand that his "legal papers" be returned to him by the warden at Clinton Prison, Dannemora.

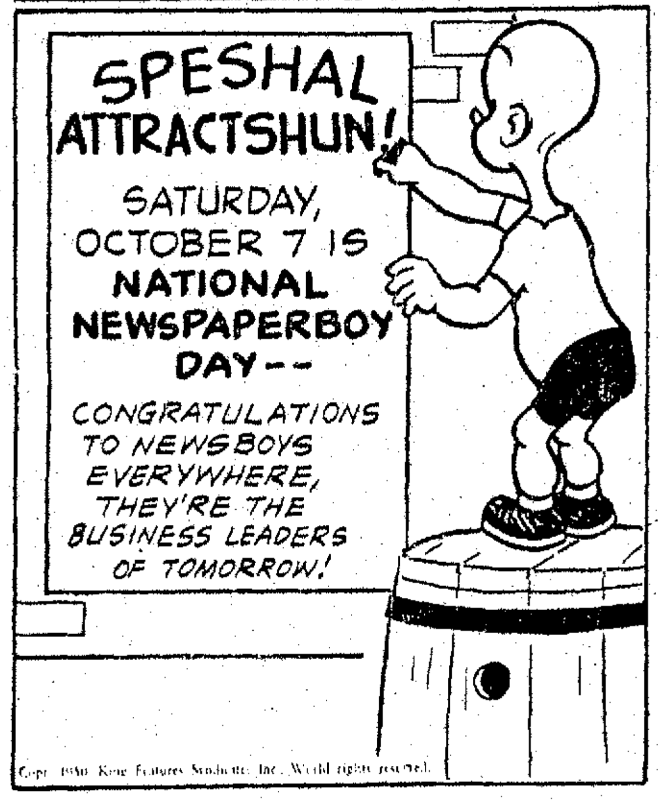

Hicks was indicted by a federal grand jury here in July, 1948, for allegedly receiving $41,000 worth of goods hijacked in New York from an interstate truck shipment. He denied the charge and while out on bail pending trial, was arrested for the armed robbery of a bar and grill at New Haven House, Beacon, on Sept. 3, 1948.

While in prison on the state charge, Hicks petitioned the federal government to give him an immediate trial or the receiving indictment or drop the charge. Brought into court today, Hicks asserted he wanted to prepare his own defense in the case but that all his law books and legal papers had been "arbitrarily seized" by the warden at Dannemora. Judge William Bondy adjourned the case for a week to study the matter.

To Get Pay Boosts

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 4 (AP)—The 15,300 upstate employes of the New York Telephone Company will receive pay boosts ranging from $2 to $5 a week, under a new company-union agreement. The raises become effective when the 18-month contract is ratified by members of four independent unions. The company announced the agreement last night.

Warmer Weather Is East's Prospect

(By The Associated Press)

The first cool spell of autumn spread over wide areas of the country today but some warming appeared in prospect.

The North Central states got the chilliest weather, with some below freezing temperatures from the upper Mississippi valley westward to the Rockies. Readings were moderate along the eastern coast and in the far West while warm weather continued in the deep South. Early morning lows included 25 above at Aberdeen and Philip, S. D.; 29 at Bismarck, N. D., and 31 at Duluth, Minn. Warmer weather was forecast for the North Central region tomorrow.

Rain fell early today along a narrow belt from near Harrisburg, Pa., to Shreveport, La. The Pacific Northwest also had some rain and there was considerable cloudiness in the Great Lakes region. Elsewhere the weather was mostly fair.

Protection

The strange odor of ordinary marigolds comes from tiny pores under the leaves, nature's way of protecting it from grass-eating animals. Marigolds have oily sacs where roses have thorns.

The Only Kind of Hoarding That Pays

is the Money You Hoard in Your SAVINGS BANK

THINK TWICE before you spend these days. It doesn't really pay to hoard against shortages that may never take place at all.

The only thing it does pay to hoard is your money—because that's the one thing you'll surely need in the future. And when you "hoard" your money in a Savings Bank, it not only pays off in interest, but in security, in peace of mind, and in the knowledge that your money is always instantly available.

The Dollar is Mightiest—When You Need It Most

So no matter what you give up in the future, don't give up saving! Stop in at your Savings Bank each payday before you stop anywhere else. Never forget—the dollar is mightiest when you need it most. That's why money in your Savings Bank is your protection against the future.

Off to College

Miss Eleanor C. Davis, daughter of Mrs. Helen M. Davis, 58 Farl street, left Sunday for Geneseo State Teachers College, where she will take a course preparatory to teach mentally handicapped children. She was graduated from Kingston High School in 1950, did post graduate work in 1950, and was active in the Junior Red Cross, Y.W.C.A., dramatics, music and art.

Wells-Hickey Troth Solemnized Sunday In Church Ceremony

Miss Julie Lorretta Hickey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Hickey of 218 Hasbrouck avenue, became the bride of LeRoy Robert Wells, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Wells of 48 Hasbrouck avenue Sunday, October 1, at St. Mary's Church. The Rev. Edward I. Farrelly officiated.

Theodore Riccobono played suitable bridal selections on the organ while soloist Barbara Bruck sang "Ave Maria." The church was decorated for the ceremony with white chrysanthemums.

Given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Lawrence Woerner, the bride wore a traditional white satin gown, with net and lace yoke, long pointed sleeves, full skirt, and a train. Her fingertip veil was trimmed with lace, and caught to a crown of seed pearls, and she carried a bouquet of white roses.

Mary Hickey, sister of the bride, of 218 Hasbrouck avenue, was maid of honor. Miss Hickey wore a gold satin gown with matching headpiece and mitts, and carried a bouquet of red roses.

Bernard Wells of 48 Hasbrouck avenue, was best man for his brother. Ushers were Lawrence Woerner, 85 Hasbrouck avenue, brother-in-law of the bride, and Gilbert Williams, 196 Hasbrouck avenue.

A reception for a hundred guests was held at the Yacht Club with music furnished by Wendell Scherer and his orchestra.

Following the reception the young couple motored to New York city. For traveling the bride chose a navy blue suit with navy blue accessories and a red rose corsage.

The bride is a graduate of St. Mary's School, and attended Kingston High School. She is employed at Joannes Dress Factory.

The groom, who was graduated from the Kingston schools, is employed with his father in the White Star Transfer Co.

Ruth Ida Dewey Weds Ronald C. Lord In Double Ring Ceremony on Sunday

The marriage of Miss Ruth Ida Dewey, daughter of Ralph F. Dewey of Tillson, and Ronald Charles Lord, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Lord, 23 Voorhees avenue, was solemnized Sunday at 3:30 o'clock in a double ring ceremony at the Tillson Reformed Church, with the Rev. David Gaise officiating.

Mrs. Everett Diehl played suitable bridal selections on the organ while Leslie L. Barringer sang "Because," and "I Love You Truly." For the ceremony the church was decorated with palms and white gladioli, and family pews were marked with white bows and ribbon.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride selected a gown of white slipper satin styled with an off shoulder effect, and trimmed with Belgian lace, seed pearls, and bugle beads. The hopped skirt was gathered at the waist and fell to a long lace trimmed train. She wore a full length veil showered with orange blossoms and caught to an orange blossom crown, and carried a white prayer book covered with orchid and ferns.

Mrs. Leslie L. Barringer of Tillson, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a gold satin gown with marquisette yoke, and fitted bodice, while her full skirt was caught up with tiers of ruffles. Her costume was completed with matching mitts, a Mary Queen of Scots hat, and a bouquet of bronze and yellow pompons.

Bridesmaids were Miss Alice Chesebro of Canaan, Conn., cousin of the bride, Miss Lois Keator of Tillson, and Miss Janice Pflum of Rosendale. Miss Chesebro and Miss Keator were dressed in pink satin gowns, while Miss Aldridge and Miss Pflum wore green. Gowns and accessories were styled similar to the matron of honor, and they carried colonial bouquets of pompons.

Miss Diane Deyo of Tillson was flower girl. She wore an orchid gown, and carried a colonial bouquet.

Best man for the groom was Watson I. Goodrich, Jr., of 6 Crown street. Ushers were John Brought, New Paltz, Anthony Hammel, 24 Liberty street, Gilbert Smith, 204 Lucas avenue, and Dunne Christiana, Fort Devens, Mass. Ringbearer was Richard C. Fox, cousin of the bridegroom.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception for 175 guests was held in the Tillson Reformed Church Hall, decorated for the occasion with fall garden flowers and white streamers attached to a white wedding bell.

After the reception Mr. and Mrs. Lord left for a wedding trip to Niagara Falls and Detroit, Mich. For traveling the bride chose a tailored brown suit, with dark brown velvet accessories, and a white orchid corsage. They will make their future home on Mt. View avenue, Tillson.

The bride is a graduate of Kingston High School, and attended the Moran-Spencerian School of Business. She is employed as a bookkeeper at Walter Davenport & Sons, High Falls.

Mr. Lord was graduated from Kingston High School, and served with the U. S. Military Academy Band, West Point. He is also employed by Walter Davenport & Sons, High Falls.

Dorothy Louise Ellsworth Becomes Bride Of George Henry Hinz at Noon, Saturday

(Brentwood Photo)
MRS. GEORGE H. HINZ

The marriage of Dorothy Louise Ellsworth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eltinge A. Ellsworth of Port Ewen to George Henry Hinz, son of Mrs. Carl Hinz and the late Mr. Hinz was solemnized in a double ring ceremony at the Port Ewen Methodist Church, 12 o'clock Saturday. The Rev. Rightson Watson, pastor, officiated.

Mrs. Arthur Fowler of Port Ewen was organist, while soloist Mrs. Charles Benton, also of Port Ewen sang "Because," and "At Dawning."

The church altar was decorated with candles and white asters, while white satin bows were placed at the pews and baskets of autumn flowers at the chancel rail.

The bride was given in marriage by her uncle, William F. Lapine, of Kingston. She chose a white satin gown with mandarin neckline, fitted basque bodice, long pointed sleeves, full hoop skirt, and cathedral train. Her fingertip veil was of silk illusion fastened to a white satin and seed pearl Juliet cap, and she carried a bouquet of white roses and baby's breath.

Mrs. Oakley C. Maynard of Port Ewen, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a salmon pink tissue paper faille gown similar to that of the bride, and matching mitts. Her bouquet was of yellow rosebuds and baby's breath.

Carl Hinz of Jersey City, brother of the groom, was best man. Ushers were Kenneth C. Hinz, brother of the groom, and Robert O'Mara, both of Jersey City.

After a reception at the Methodist Church hall for 60 guests, the young couple left for a wedding trip to Lake George. For her traveling ensemble the bride chose a gray flannel suit, with black accessories. They will make their home in Jersey City.

The bride is a graduate of Kingston High School, and Becker Junior College, Worcester, Mass. She is employed as a stenographer with Sullivan and Cromwell, a corporation law firm, Wall street, N. Y.

The groom was graduated from Lincoln High School, Jersey City. During World War 2, he served for 34 months in the South Pacific as a U. S. Navy radioman, 1st class, on a motor torpedo boat. At present he is employed with the Pennsylvania Railroad.

Democrats' Picnic Draws 500 Guests

Hospital Auxiliary Elects New Officers

Principal function of the first fall meeting of the Kingston Hospital Auxiliary at the Nurses' Home, Tuesday evening was the election of officers for the coming year, with Mrs. R. Frederic Chidsey presiding. The following slate, presented by Mrs. Edward H. Remmert was elected unanimously:

President, Mrs. Frederic Holcomb; 1st vice president, Mrs. Parker K. Brinnier; 2nd vice president, Mrs. Joseph Jacobson; recording secretary, Mrs. Lester B. Sanford; treasurer, Mrs. Arthur W. Hazenbush; corresponding secretary, Mrs. R. Frederic Chidsey.

Members of the nominating committee this year were Mrs. Frank A. Johnston, Mrs. Edward H. Remmert, and Mrs. N. Le Van Haver.

Following the elections the committee chairmen made their annual reports. Mrs. John D. Schoonmaker, Jr., told the gathering that all rooms on the second floor of the hospital had been completed in addition to room 202 equipped in memory of Mrs. George A. Howells, who was known as an interested, generous, and loyal member of the auxiliary. Color schemes were selected to be pleasing as well as practical, Mrs. Schoonmaker explained.

In addition, modern equipment has been installed in the main hospital kitchen to facilitate speed and efficiency.

The Good Cheer Committee, headed by Mrs. Chester B. VanGaasbeck, and felt by many to be one of the auxiliary's most important functions, reported weekly visits to the wards and the children's wards, as well as the distribution of candy, fruit, cigarettes, toys and magazines.

Other committee chairmen to make their annual reports were Mrs. Arthur W. Hazenbush, program chairman, Mrs. Harold S. Loughran, school of nursing chairman; Mrs. John B. Krom and Mrs. Joseph Jacobson, committee for graduating class chairmen; and Mrs. R. Frederic Chidsey, publicity chairman.

During the same meeting two new members were welcomed into the auxiliary; Mrs. John Cook and Mrs. Alfred Schmid, while an invitation is extended to all other women to join the auxiliary and attend the next meeting October 31.

A social hour followed the meeting, with the tea table attractively arranged in autumn bronze and gold. Hostesses were Mrs. Robert F. Moseley, Jr., and Mrs. Frederic Chidsey, while Mrs. Frederick Holcomb poured.

Married Sunday Afternoon

Mrs. William L. MacMullen, the former Helen I. Hauptmann, whose marriage took place Sunday afternoon in Trinity Evangelical Church. (Pennington Photo)

Helen Hauptmann Married Sunday to William MacMullen

Helen I. Hauptmann, daughter of Mrs. E. R. Hauptmann, 104 Henry street, and the late Edwin Hauptmann, was married Sunday afternoon at 1 o'clock in Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church to William L. MacMullen of Saugerties, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Van Etten of Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., the Rev. Frank Gollnick, assisted by the Rev. Josephine Richards of Welch Congregational Church, Shamokin, Pa., officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Mrs. Raymond Ingersoll was organist. Before the ceremony soloist Mrs. James Gaddis sang "At Dawning," "Because," and "The Lord's Prayer."

Robert Osterhoudt gave his sister-in-law in marriage. The bride wore a gown of white nylon over taffeta falling to a long train. The fitted bodice was cut to achieve an off-shoulder effect, while the bride's fingertip veil was caught to a crown of orange blossoms. She carried a white Bible and a white orchid.

Mrs. Robert Osterhoudt of New Paltz, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a yellow nylon over taffeta gown with matching headpiece, and carried a colonial bouquet of pom-poms.

Bridesmaids were Miss Ruth E. Menzel of Englewood, N. J., cousin of the bride, and Miss Drusilla A. Nestell, of 108 Henry street. Both attendants were dressed in shaded turquoise gowns with matching headpieces, and carried yellow pom-pom colonial bouquets.

Edris Richards of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., uncle of the groom, was best man. Ushers were Donald Taylor of Closter, N. J., and Robert Moser of 118 Linderman avenue.

A reception was held for 50 guests at Pleasant Valley Inn. For travelling the bride chose a gray suit with red accessories.

The bride was graduated from New Paltz High School and Spencer's Business School, and is associated with the business office of the New York Telephone Co.

The groom is a graduate of Saugerties High School, and the Oxford School of Business Administration, Cambridge, Mass.

Boston Scrappers Highlight First Winter Boxing Card Thursday Night

Sampson, Classy Lightweight, Will Face Vince Salvati

Reports from the boxing camp of the Boston amateurs slated to appear Thursday night at the municipal auditorium indicate that their opponents will have to do a lot of scrapping to come out on the winning end.

Bill Gallagn, Y.M.C.A. coach, who handles four of the Simon Pures, including two heavyweights, boasts that they are real action sluggers with plenty of punching power.

Kenny Sampson, his lightweight matched with Vince Salvati, is bound to give the brilliant Troy thumper a real test in the feature on the B'nai B'rith card, according to his record.

Gallago boasts that his Boston Pride has won 39 of 2? bouts against some of the best 135-pounders in New England. He considers him a sure thing for the next national tournament.

Bright Future Predicted

His description of Sampson is: "Classy, very classy and a boy with a wonderful assortment of punches. He's bound to go places."

Salvati, who has developed into a great upstate favorite because of his fine campaigns in outdoor shows during the summer, has a large following in Kingston.

The fiery Troy scrapper has five wins to his credit in the auditorium, including victories over Rufus Rodgers and Julie Jamieson. His only loss in the local ring was to Libby Manzolillo, Jeffersonville pride, who last Sunday was voted honorable mention by the Adirondack A.A.U. in the Athlete of the Year division.

Others on Card

Stablemates of Sampson here from Boston are: Ronnie Greenfield, 205, who has scored seven kayoes in 15 bouts; Art Pringle, New England flyweight champ, who is in the crew of the U. S. S. Constitution, credited with 49 wins in 53 scraps; Jimmy Adams, 208, finalist in the U.S. Navy championships, winner by knockouts in his last three bouts.

Greenfield, labeled as the Jewish Tarzan, is matched with Vince Ella, Middletown's 195-pound favorite.

Pringle is paired with Lee Jackson of Troy.

Adams will box Joe Hudson, 210, of Albany.

There are seven bouts on the card, the first scheduled for 9 o'clock.

Reports from Bill Singer, B'nai B'rith boxing chairman, and Dave Pepick, cochairman are that reservations for ring-side seats presage a crowd tomorrow night.

'Y' Has TV Set For Series Games

Lou Schafer and Burt Tandy of the Y.M.C.A. have issued a cordial invitation to members of the Y and the general public to witness the World Series games on the new television set installed at the Y.M.C.A.

The set was presented to the Y by several friends while others contributed to pay for the installation and aerial.

All of the Series games will be open to the public.

Football Briefs

Cambridge, Mass., Oct. 4 (AP)—Coach Lloyd Jordan today had his Harvard offensive and defensive alignments set up for Saturday's opener with Columbia. Both platoons were used during yesterday's scrimmage with the scrubs.

Jordan still faces the difficult task of finding a replacement for Bob DiMassio. The veteran end, who underwent an appendectomy two weeks ago, has decided to remain out of football this season.

Ithaca, N. Y., Oct. 4 (AP)—Cornell's football team will uncork some new plays against Syracuse Saturday.

The big Red squad ran through the maneuvers yesterday. Three quarterbacks, Rocco Calvo of Bethlehem, Pa., Jack Jaeckel of Leonia, N. J., and Bob Malm of Brooklyn took turns throwing passes.

Dave Quimby, a sophomore from Chappaqua, showed up as a strong competitor for the starting assignment at defensive right guard. Vince DiGrande of Lynn, Mass., previous had been considered the probable replacement for injured Dick Hagenauer.

10 Players Sidelined

Syracuse, N. Y., Oct. 4 (AP)—With 10 players sidelined by injuries, the Syracuse football team today seemed more of an underdog than had been expected for its annual clash with Cornell Saturday.

Coach Floyd Schwartzwalder put the physically fit members of his squad through a scrimmage yesterday, then announced that he wouldn't risk any more contact work this week.

Tony Fiacco, a junior from Endicott, was at left guard for the workout. He replaced Bill Skyinskus, the most seriously injured of the 10.

All the Orange players were hurt in a game against Temple last Friday night.

First Women's Champ

Boonton, N. J., Oct. 4 (AP)—Mrs. Wright D. Goss, Somerset Hills Country Club, is the first women's metropolitan senior golf champion today. She took the inaugural tournament yesterday at the Knoll Club by shooting a 10-over-women's-par 86. She had 43's on each nine. Mrs. David Sulzberger of the Century Country Club, Westchester county, N. Y., had the least number of putts, 28, to win the putting contest.

Birds Near Clincher

Columbus, O., Oct. 4 (AP)—The Columbus Red Birds, with a three-to-one lead, planned to send Cotton Deal to the mound against the Baltimore Orioles here tonight in an attempt to clinch the "Little World Series" championship. A victory by Columbus tonight will end the series between the Red Birds of the American Association and the Orioles of the International League.

YANKEES' CHOICE

Vic Raschi (above), ace New York Yankee hurler, is Manager Casey Stengel's choice as starting pitcher for the World Champions in opening game of 1950 World Series scheduled to start in Shibe Park, Philadelphia. Raschi has a 21-8 record for current season.

Henrich Rules Out Job as Manager; Family Is First

Philadelphia, Oct. 4 (AP)—Because his passion for his family is far greater than his love for baseball, Tommy Henrich was prepared today to sacrifice a chance to become manager of the New York Yankees.

The veteran outfielder-first baseman, in a surprise disclosure, declared he had no managerial ambition whatsoever. One of the brainiest and most popular players ever to wear a Yankee uniform, Henrich generally is regarded as Casey Stengel's successor.

"I have no managerial aspirations," Tommy stated flatly last night. "I have no aspirations to become manager of the Yankees. And I most certainly don't want to manage in the minor leagues. I've struggled through years in the minors. I'll never go back, no matter what."

Rumored as a certainty to pilot the Yankees in the near future, the 34-year-old native of Massilon, Ohio, has been reported as ready to accept an offer for a managerial post with Kansas City, a farm club of the Yankees, next year.

Nothing Offered

"Neither the Yankees nor anybody else has offered me any kind of a managerial job," he said. "I wouldn't accept one if it were offered.

"This is the way I look at it," he said. "I've been playing baseball for 17 years. I'm not getting any younger. It's time I began to think of my happiness and the happiness of my family.

"I have a wonderful wife and three children. They mean all the world to me. Sure, I love baseball. Sure I owe it a lot. But I love my family more and I owe more to my family."

Henrich said he'd welcome a job in baseball. "But not one that will keep me away from my family. Being a manager means staying away from home. I don't want that. I've spent seven months out of every year away from my family. That's too much."

"My children don't see enough of me and I don't see enough of them. Other kids cry when their father gets ready to leave for any length of time. Mine have come to accept it as a matter of course. They've been schooled that way. That's not fair to me. It's not fair to them."

Tom said he'd jump at the chance to join the Yankee front office "provided it's a responsible position that would meet with my capabilities."

Midget Driver Dies

Harrisburg, Pa., Oct. 4 (AP)—A midget auto race driver died at Harrisburg Airport yesterday of injuries received in a feature race at nearby Williams Grove track on September 24. The victim, Roger Koeppe, 23, of Roosevelt, N. Y., had been taken to the airfield for a flight home.

MANAGER PICKS SERIES OPENER HURLER

Manage Eddie Sawyer (left, center) puts his arm around the shoulder of Relief Pitcher Jim Konstanty as he tells newsmen at Shibe Park that the Phillies' hurler will be on the mound for the National League champs for opening game of World Series with New York Yankees. Konstanty did not start a game in the 1950 season but appeared in 74, winning 16 and losing 7. (AP Wirephoto)

TICKET TO THE SERIES

Pfc. Curt Simmons, former star pitcher of the Philadelphia Phillies, shows a T.W. stewardess his plane ticket at Indianapolis, Ind., while en route to the World Series at Philadelphia. He has a ten-day special leave and possibly might get to pitch in the Series. If Stewardess Barbara Scorell's smile looks a little forced, it's because she's from Brooklyn, whose Dodgers lost the National League pennant to the Phillies Sunday.

Dyer Is Through As Card Manager

Philadelphia, Oct. 4 (AP)—Eddie Dyer will be replaced as manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, the Associated Press learned today.

Dyer's successor will not be chosen from among the present members of the Redbirds. But it definitely will be a man in the Cardinal organization, a reliable source revealed.

Speculation as to Dyer's dismissal has been going on for several months, ever since the sale of Pitcher Jim Hearn to the New York Giants. Rumors had either Card Coach Terry Moore or Shortstop Marty Marion replacing the genial oil man from Texas.

"It will be neither," the source said. "Fred Saigh, the St. Louis owner, wants a man with managerial experience. You won't be wrong if you said the current choice lies between Managers Johnny Keane of Rochester and Rollie Hemsley of Columbus."

Both clubs are owned by the Cards who have the largest minor league chain with 21 clubs. Rochester won the International League pennant. Columbus won the American Association playoffs. Both Keane and Hemsley have had several years of minor league managing experience.

Saigh professed he knew nothing of a change in managers, but admitted he planned to hold a conference with Dyer on October 15.

Snap Up Wins Race

Yonkers, N. Y., Oct. 4 (AP)—Snap Up, ridden by Ben Turlington, captured the $2,000 Pleasantville pace of one mile at Yonkers Raceway last night in 2:05 3/5. A crowd of 12,667 saw the five-year-old stallion seize the lead at the halfway mark and breeze home a 4½ length victor over Major Rosecroft. Mr. Vermont finished third. Snap Up paid $6.10, $3.60 and $3.00.

Konstanty May Pull an 'Ehmke' As Surprise World Series Starter

BY JACK HAND

Philadelphia, Oct. 4 (AP)—Jim Konstanty, rubber-armed Phillies relief hero, is manager Eddie Sawyer's stunning choice to open against the New York Yankees' Vic Raschi today in the most daring gamble since the 1929 world series.

Not since Connie Mack startled his own players by calling on obscure Howard Ehmke to pitch and win the opener for the A's against Chicago 21 years ago has a pennant-winning manager taken such a chance.

A sell-out crowd of 33,167 will see bespectacled Jim try to "pull an Ehmke." Game time was 1 p. m. (EST), with a promise of cloudy and cooler weather. Millions more were to watch and listen at home on television and radio.

They were betting 9 to 5 that Konstanty and the Phils wouldn't win the opener. And the Phils Whiz kids were 13 to 5 underdogs in the best-of-seven series.

Sawyer skipped Robin Roberts, his 20-game winning flag clincher, to give him more rest, and settled on Konstanty, his faithful bullpen saver. Enjoying his best season at the age of 33, big Jim pitched in a record-breaking 74 games. Yet he didn't start once, and hasn't started a game since 1948 at Toronto. He hasn't been a big league starter since he was with the Boston Braves in 1946.

"I thought Jim had the best chance against this type of free-swinging club," Sawyer explained. The skipper reached his decision 15 minutes before yesterday's workout after a meeting with his coaching staff, scouts, Konstanty and Roberts.

Never much of a success until he started working for mild-tempered Sawyer, Konstanty is essentially a control pitcher with good breaking stuff. A few curves and an occasional fast ball break a steady diet of sliders and palm balls coming out of an exaggerated overhand motion.

Confidence of Club

The selection of Konstanty was no sentimental [illegible] to [illegible] ful worker. Sawyer [illegible] Konstanty [illegible] the way he baffled the American League sluggers in the All-Star game, how he pulled the Phils out of trouble day after day. He was the man Sawyer said made the "big difference" in the Phils' success story, although he had been hit hard in his last few [illegible].

The news surprised Konstanty as much as the [illegible] was [illegible], although Sawyer said he "[illegible] with the idea" during the final month.

Konstanty, arriving early for the workout, was called to a corner by Sawyer who asked, "Do you think you could pitch the opener?" Jim jumped at the chance.

"Jim is experienced and the boys have confidence in him," Sawyer said. "I'd rather go with him than try somebody [illegible] only [illegible]. This way I have Roberts ready and rested for the second game."

Although Konstanty (16-7) did not start all year he did pitch nine innings against Pittsburgh August 25 and [illegible] relief innings in a 19-inning night game against Cincinnati September 15. In the minors he started regularly.

Henrich Is Dropped

The Konstanty story created such a stir that changes in the eligible player list were almost overlooked. The Phils were given permission by the Yanks to use Outfielder Jack Mayo and left-handed Pitcher Jocko Thompson in place of the [illegible] Bill Nicholson and Curt Simmons, the 17-game winner now in the army.

Simmons will attend the game on a 10-day furlough. The Sixteen-game [illegible] pitcher may even work batting practice, but Sawyer said he would not ask Commissioner A. B. Chandler to restore him to the active list.

In return for letting Mayo and Thompson play, the Yanks can use Johnny Hopp, acquired after the September 1 deadline. To make Hopp eligible, Manager Casey Stengel drops Tommy Henrich, [illegible] with a bad knee, off the list.

[illegible] it was an "awful [illegible]." Still he had to strengthen his club with a first baseman [illegible] like Hopp [illegible] could be used [illegible] as a pinch hitter. A year ago Henrich played first base and [illegible] at Fort New [illegible] with a [illegible] running home [illegible].

[illegible] powerful [illegible] [illegible] contrast [illegible] with Konstanty's dancing [illegible] stuff. [illegible] pitched [illegible] key games [illegible] in the last two weeks, he still whipped [illegible] in a vital September [illegible] game.

Angels Trip Potters In Y Game, 64 to 53; Wiltwycks Register

Harry's Angels and Wiltwyck Motors registered victories in the "A" division of the Y.M.C.A. Autumn Basketball League Tuesday night at the Y boards.

The Angels, coming to life after trailing in the first two periods of play, turned back Potter Brothers by 64 to 53. The Motormen drubbed Chez Emile by 65 to 52.

A flashy offensive exhibition by Eric Goercke who scored 12 of his 22 points in the final quarter of the game, sparked the Angels to their victory.

Potters led the Angels by 15-8 and 24-23 in the first half. Then trailing 40-39 going into the final stanza, the Angels enjoyed a big scoring spree of 25 points to overwhelm Potters.

Following Goercke in the scoring column was Dunham who found the range for 19 markers. G. Holstein and Sass paced the losers with 14 and 10 points in that order.

Wiltwyck's tremendous bench strength was a big factor in their triumph over the Chezzies.

The winners scored at will—jumping off to a 17-12 lead at the first quarter and advancing to a 34-22 lead at the half.

Rod Sagendorf's 20 points spearheaded the winners. W. Klein followed with 15. George Bloom tossed in 24 for the losers.

Lusty Song Pegged As Futurity Hope

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 4 (AP)—Six crack trotters will go to the barrier here tomorrow in the 58th renewal of the Kentucky Futurity for three-year-olds, second richest event in harness racing's grand circuit.

Included among the small, select field for the event worth $56,355 is Hambletonian winner Lusty Song and Star's Pride, second in both heats of the Goshen, N. Y., classic in August.

The winner of the $75,000 Hambletonian has been installed as an early 6 to 5 choice in the Futurity off performances which have earned him the title of the biggest money-winning colt in the history of the sport.

Owned by Hayes Fair Acre stable of Duquoin, Ill., Lusty Song as a two-year-old established a bankroll of $47,799. He has added $73,944 to it this year for a total of $121,743.

Bowling

Earl "Red" Sleight threw plenty of strikes in the Central Rec League at the Railroad avenue lanes Tuesday night and emerged with a sizzling 620 (triple Sleight fired games of 210-198-212 for his hefty blast.

It was a big night throughout the circuit with C. Brooks and Ronnie Mauro tying for runnerup honors with 573 series. Brooks posted games of 192-174-204 while Mauro hit 212-180-181.

Also of note were Stan Colvin with 226-567; Jim Moss 201-564; L. Stauble 550; A. Hoey 550.

Veteran Jack Martin led the pack in the Silver Palace League at the Bowlatorium Tuesday with a 560 triple on sticks of 207-180-173. Ross Ellis was the No. 2 keg-ler of the night with 550.

Scott Vinning rolled 222-548, Herm Seelbach 543; C. Herdman 541.

Two 500's were tossed in the Y Federation National League Tuesday night by Jimmy Little who posted 542 and J. Fatum with 502.

Little rapped the pot-bellied maples for 164-192-186 while Fatum registered games of 192-148-162.

Other top efforts included R. DeKay with 479; Ed Kittle 474; Ferd Short 470.

Throwing consistent games of 173-182-167, Margie Jansen topped the pinfall in the Friendship League activities at the Bowlatorium Wednesday with a 522 series.

Others in the 500 bracket included Evelyn Dolson with 509 and Betty Bruck 505.

Jo Smith anchored in with 483; Evelyn Gross 474; Dot Rawding 474; M. Mackey 461; Marge Van Alstyne 457; Winnie Overfield 456.

Ken Williams continued his sizzling pace in local bowling circles this week by blasting a 661 triple to spark the City League trundlers at the Bowlodrome.

Williams exploded games of 201-237-223 for his pace-setting series.

Elsewhere in the league, C. Robinson blasted 215-598; Fred Rice 208-575; Johnny Ferraro 217-577; Larry Weishaupt 200-205-562; Phil Masters 214-555; Harold Broskie 551; and Boots Leskie 351.

Graziano Favorite Over Gene Burton

Chicago, Oct. 4 (AP)—Rocky Graziano, former middleweight champion, hopes to bounce back into title contention tonight in a 10-round bout at Chicago Stadium against Gene Burton of New York.

Graziano, also of New York, returns to the scene of his greatest triumph where on July 16, 1947, he dethroned Tony Zale as world middleweight champion. He is a heavy favorite to win. He will have a decisive edge in weight, 160 pounds to 147 pounds for Burton.

The stadium also has been a lucky campaign headquarters for Burton, who has not been defeated in his last 10 appearances in the big west side arena. He won nine bouts and earned a draw with Eddie Dawson.

Tonight's stadium show, the first of the International Boxing Club's 1950-51 indoor program, figures to draw 11,000 fans and an approximate gate of $35,000.

An impressive triumph for Graziano would move him closer to a championship match with Jake LaMotta and a shot at Ray (Sugar) Robinson in December.

Cool for Series

Philadelphia, Oct. 4 (AP)—The Weather Man predicts cloudy and cool weather for today's first game of the 1950 World Series between the Philadelphia Phillies and New York Yankees. The temperature should be about 64 degrees during the afternoon.

May Get His Citizenship

Washington, Oct. 4 (AP)—Gareth (Garry) Davis today appeared likely to get back the American citizenship he renounced two years ago to become a self-styled "citizen of the world." Attorney General McGrath said yesterday he sees no reason to oppose Davis' desire to become a U. S. citizen again but that the former bomber pilot, now 29, will have to go through the naturalization process. Because of his recent marriage to Audrey Peters, a Hollywood dance instructor, Davis probably can regain his citizenship in March, 1952. Naturalization normally takes five years, but it may be cut to two in the case of an alien who has resided here for two years and has been married to an American for one year of that time.

Men Go A-Feuding

Bogota, Colombia, Oct. 4 (AP)—The menfolk of two neighboring families in the rural section of Villamaria grabbed knives and sticks and went feuding, Diario Grafico reported today. The cause: One family's hunting dog was killed recently. The result: Three members of each side seriously injured.

Gottfried Sues Landlord For Alleged Excess Rent

New York, Oct. 4 (Special)—Herman Gottfried, of Margaretville, formerly of 238 Washington avenue, Kingston, filed suit in Federal Court here today claiming that Rea D. Taylor, owner of the two family house at that address, collected a total of $735 in excess rent from him.

The suit charges that from May 21, 1948, until last February 1 Gottfried paid $75 per month to rent half the house, though the legal maximum rental under the housing law was only $40.

The suit asks damages of $2,-940, representing three times the amount of the illegal overcharge, plus costs of the legal action.

No answer to the complaint has yet been filed.

Might Fight U.N. Forces

Taipei, Formosa, Oct. 4 (AP)—A national defense ministry spokesman said today the Chinese Communists might fight United Nations forces in the Korean war without openly intervening. He suggested the Chinese Reds could send volunteers from their armies into Korea or detachments of Korean-origin Chinese who speak Korean. "But whether the Chinese Reds openly participate depends on Moscow," the Chinese Nationalist spokesman asserted. "And I have no idea what Moscow will decide."

Beer for the Ladies

Bangor, Me., Oct. 4 (AP)—Paul A. Gould, 22, began a 30-day sentence today after pleading guilty yesterday to using a bed sheet as a conveyor in providing three thirsty women inmates of the county jail with beer. Police said Gould admitted standing beneath a jail window and attaching a case of beer, bottle by bottle, to a sheet lowered by one of the women. Bottles of brew were found beneath cell mattresses.

Wedded in Hobart

Helenmarie King Becomes Bride of Edward E. Huettinger

In a double ring ceremony at the Presbyterian Church of Hobart, Miss Helenmarie King, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Lyon King of Hobart, was married Saturday, Sept. 30, to Edward Ernest Huettinger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Huettinger, 49 Spring street, Kingston.

The Rev. Wesley Megaw, pastor, officiated, assisted by the Rev. Frank Golnick of Kingston's Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church. Mrs. Will King of Hobart was the organist, and Miss Ruth Rose, of South Kortright, sang "O Promise Me," "At Dawning" and "The Lord's Prayer." The church was decorated with ferns, white chrysanthemums and candles.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white satin gown with a long train and a bodice of lace over satin. Her fingertip veil, which had been her mother's, was caught to a white satin cap trimmed with orange blossoms. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses.

Maid of honor was Miss Betty Jane King of Rochester, sister of the bride. She wore yellow brocaded satin with a matching cap, and carried a bouquet of bronze pompoms.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Howard Rich of Hobart, cousin of the bride, Mrs. Robert Bookout of Meridale, Miss Sue Lane of Walton, and Miss Ann Rothany of Oneonta. Each wore a taffeta gown and carried bouquets of multi-colored pompoms. Mrs. Rich wore pink, Mrs. Bookout green, Miss Lane lavender and Miss Rothany aqua.

Henry C. Huettinger of New Milford, N. J., was best man, and the ushers were Stuart Shotwell of Northport, L. I., Donald Beacroft of Suffern, Oscar Forsberg of Suffern, all fraternity brothers of the groom, and Floyd Many of Hobart, cousin of the bride.

A reception was held for 170 guests at the bride's parents' home, decorated with asters and chrysanthemums. The couple left for a wedding trip to New England, the bride wearing a green gabardine suit with green and brown accessories.

They will live in Oneonta where the groom is a senior at Hartwick College and the bride is secretary to the publicity director of Hartwick College.

Mrs. Huettinger was graduated from South Kortright Central School and Albany Business College. The groom was graduated from Kingston High School and spent one and a half years in the army.

Fashion Show Set For Party Honoring New Student Nurses

Fall fashions will be shown at a welcoming party to be given tonight by upperclassmen at the Kingston Hospital School of Nursing in honor of the 24 pre-clinical students enrolled last month. The style show and party will be held at the Nurses' residence at 8:15.

Miss Justine Rowe will be the commentator, and the fashions will be supplied by the Towne Shoppe and London's Youth Centre and Junior Bazaar. Student nurses will model some of the clothing, while other models will be provided by the shops.

The nurse-models will be Muriel Hoyt, Elizabeth Mason, Vera Bolt and Joan McHugh. Others will be Mrs. Arthur E. Hansen, Miss Janice Cadden, Audrey Shultis, Mathilde Hobush and Mrs. Frederick Sawitzky.

Styles through the day—from negligees, casuals, sportswear, office dresses to cocktail and short evening dresses—will be shown. Accessories will be by London's, Teresa Rose (hats) and Wonderly's (pocketbooks.)

Among the features will be a "nine-lives dress," a group of corduroys, and clothes for the mature woman.

Conditions Are Reported

Attorney Chris J. Flanagan, 17 East Chestnut street, who suffered a heart attack last Saturday, returned to his home from Kingston Hospital yesterday. The condition of County Treasurer John T. Groves, who suffered a heart attack Sunday, was reported as "fair" at the hospital.

Elks' Auxiliary Plans Fall Schedule

Plans for the autumn season were formulated Monday night when members of the Ladies' Auxiliary, B.P.O.E. No. 550 held their regular meeting at the Elks' Club, Mrs. G. D. Logan presiding.

It was planned that 50 members of the auxiliary will combine with Mayor Newkirk's committee for a successful "Crusade for Freedom" drive, Monday evening, October 16. Volunteers are requested to attend the meeting at the city court room October 9.

Other dates on the auxiliary agenda are the annual card party at the Elks Club Thursday evening, October 19, and a fall rummage sale the second week in November.

Hostesses Monday evening were Mrs. G. Davis, Mrs. R. Dulin, Mrs. W. Cramer, Mrs. T. Townsend, Mrs. R. Obenaus, Mrs. J. Epstein and Miss Ida Epstein.

Trinity Church Plans Fall Sale and Supper

Trinity Methodist Church's annual turkey dinner and sale will be held at the church, corner of Wurts and Hunter streets, October 24. Dinner will be served from 5:30.

The following committees have been announced by Mrs. Frank W. Thompson: Dinner committee, Mrs. John Short, Mrs. F. W. Thompson, Mrs. Fred Demming, Mrs. Edward Kearney, Mrs. Anna Smith, Mrs. Donald Schoonmaker, and Mrs. William DuBois. Sales table, Mrs. S. E. Eighmey, Miss Minnie Osterhoudt, Mrs. Herbert Killinder, Mrs. A. W. Tongue, and Mrs. Harry Ernist; Candy, Mrs. Ivan Gosseo, Mrs. Edward Hillis, and Mrs. Henry Wilmot. Decorations and table service, Miss Irene Goodsell, Mrs. George Long, Mrs. Wesley Gregory, Mrs. Marion Clark, Wesleyan Service Guild and the Youth Fellowship group.

Claude Thornhill and Famous Orchestra Engaged for Knights of Columbus Ball

Claude Thornhill and his famous orchestra have been engaged to play at the Knights of Columbus Charity Ball Monday evening, October 23, at the municipal auditorium, the Knights of Columbus announced today. The ball is one of the high points of Kingston's social season.

Thornhill is known throughout the entertainment and musical world as a composer-arranger and pianist par excellence. He has worked with such musical greats as Bing Crosby, Benny Goodman, Charlie Spivak and the late Glenn Miller. It was with his arrangement of "Loch Lomond" that Maxine Sullivan soared to fame.

With an orchestra of musicians carefully selected for their merits as individual artists and their ability to blend their tones, Claude Thornhill "has come forth with something new on the musical horizon," the Knights of Columbus announcement said. "All cities pick him as the band to watch in 1950."

Reed and Brass

The richly colored arrangements played by the Thornhill band have all been made by the leader himself, and they achieve a rich quality through an uncommon arrangement of the reed and brass sections. The orchestra has four trumpet players, two trombones, five men doubling on saxophones and clarinets, and one French horn—an innovation in the dance world. Also with the ensemble are two popular vocalists.

Thornhill and his orchestra have played at the Statler Hotel, Paramount Theatre, Strand Theatre, in New York, the famous Glen Island Casino in New Rochelle, the Edgewater Beach Hotel and Sherman Hotel in Chicago, the Palladium in Hollywood, and the Shamrock Hotel in Houston, Texas. He records for R.C.A. Victor.

CLAUDE THORNHILL

All three of Thornhill's talents are introduced in the orchestra's theme song, "Snowfall," written, arranged and played by the maestro.

Classical Training

He received his basic training in music at the Cincinnati Conservatory and the Curtis Institute in Philadelphia. From there he went into the practical field as pianist and arranger. His combination of a classical background with the latest trend of popular music results, the K. of C. announcement declared, "in music that bears a distinctive Claude Thornhill stamp."

In addition to the orchestra, the semi-formal ball will also feature a vaudeville show.

General Chairman Andrew B. McDermott has called a special meeting of the ball committee for tomorrow at 7:30 p. m. to complete plans for the gala affair.

Bridges' Traffic Shows Increase

Travel over the three Hudson valley bridges was generally on the increase in September this year over 1949, with the Bear Mountain bridge in the lead, but the local ferry shows a loss in both vehicle and pedestrian travel, the New York State Bridge Authority reported today.

The loss in travel on the Kingston-Rhinecliff ferry is believed due to the fact that only two days of the Dutchess County Fair were in September this year while three of the fair days were in that month in 1949. August travel on the ferry this year was ahead of that in 1949.

Travel over the Rip Van Winkle Bridge at Catskill was 7.68 per cent above 1949 with 144,195 vehicles recorded this year as against 138,911 last year.

The Mid-Hudson bridge recorded 261,898 this year against 268,365 last, for a gain of 5.83 per cent, and the Bear Mountain recorded 140,418 against 124,962 for a 12.37 per cent gain.

The ferry recorded 9,960 vehicles this year and 10,054 in 1949, a decrease of 94 vehicles. Pedestrian travel showed a decrease of 1,347, with 3,470 this year and 4,817 in 1949.

Hear About Crusade for Freedom

munism in the abstract has a strong appeal for the young untrained mind.

"Equality, sharing the wealth and that sort of thing glistens very well," he said, "but the truth is that communism as a doctrine has never been tried out."

The speaker said the communism of Russia is a dictatorship, and the difference between communism under Stalin, Nazism under Hitler and Fascism under Mussolini is just one of degree and finesse.

Encouraging, however, is the evidence being received that even with one-sided sources of information the Russian people are beginning to think something is phoney about the doctrine which in practice results in cruelty and oppression. They swallow the teaching solely in order to survive, he said.

For these reasons it is important now to start an anti-propaganda campaign such as that being attempted in the current Crusade for Freedom movement, Gen. Barker said.

The Crusade seeks to obtain signatures of millions of Americans on scrolls to be placed in the base of a new 10-ton Freedom Bell which will peal out its message of hope in Berlin on United Nations Day, October 24.

At the same time many small contributions will be solicited to support Radio Free Europe, a new hard-hitting, citizen-supported freedom station in Western Germany. It supplements the State Department's Voice of America.

The idea of the campaign, Gen. Barker pointed out, is to obtain as many contributions as possible, not as large ones as possible. He asked that contributions be made under a dollar.

Gen. Barker was introduced by Garland Farmer of Syracuse, who accompanied him here. Others who spoke briefly were Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk, local Crusade for Freedom chairman; Harry T. Gumaer, Lions Club program chairman; C. Robert Cousins, Lions president, presided.

The answers to everyday insurance problems*
By HERMAN J. EATON

QUESTION: I have carried twenty five dollar deductible collision insurance policies on various cars I have owned over a period of many years. I've had two minor accidents, both under the twenty-five dollar limit so have paid the whole cost myself as well as the insurance premiums. Why don't the insurance companies put out a policy covering all damage, however slight, and give the premium payers a break?

ANSWER: You can get a full coverage policy but the cost is very high. In effect, you would be paying a share in the cost of all those little fender bendings and headlight breakings all over the country. The repairs are small but there are lots of them. By carrying the deductible policy you pay for the small damage yourself but you make certain you don't have to foot the bill for a really staggering amount.

* If you'll address your own insurance questions to this office we'll try to give you the correct answers and there will be NO CHARGE OR OBLIGATION OF ANY KIND.

Sleightsburg Man

Were Fitzgerald and Thomas McGrane investigated.

Sophia Weigert, 93 Emerick street, reported at 7:30 p. m. that she was walking down Broadway pushing a baby carriage and when crossing Field Court a car operated by a woman struck and damaged the carriage. The driver, she said, went on without making herself known.

Two women reported injuries following an accident at Broadway and Foxhall avenue last night in which the front of the Fred Schell market, 371 Broadway, was damaged.

Officer William Hanley reported at 1:47 p. m. that a sedan operated by Leslie H. Tillson, Stone Ridge, and one owned and driven by Kenneth H. VanRensselaer, Woodstock, were in collision at the intersection.

Ruth Calhoun, 38, of 13 Foxhall avenue, a passenger in the Tillson car, was treated at Kingston Hospital for an injury to the right knee and Helen Van Rensselaer, 26, who was riding in the other car was treated by a doctor for injuries of the knees and forehead.

The Tillson car, the report said, was headed south on Broadway and turning into Foxhall avenue and the other car was going north on Broadway.

The Van Rensselaer car damaged a plate glass window in the market doorway and support post and small windows, but was able to move under its own power, police said.

Ronald Hayes, 11, of the Children's Home, East Chester street, suffered a cut on the left leg in another mishap last night at Hasbrouck avenue and Catherine street.

Officers Walter VanSteenburgh and William Haney reported that Hayes was riding on the handle bars of a bicycle operated by Frank Banks. They were headed south on Hasbrouck avenue and turning left into Catherine street when they were in collision with the left rear end of a truck owned by A. Bahl. Young Hayes was taken to Kingston Hospital in a W. N. Conner ambulance. The condition was reported as good today.

Regular Veterans Need Funds for Hospital Program

A social event to raise funds for work in veterans hospitals and to carry on a program among the children of disabled ex-servicemen will be run sometime this month, it has been announced by Ulster County Memorial Post, Regular Veterans Association.

Plans for the project were started at a meeting of the organization at the home of George W. Nichols in Bloomington September 28. He said that money raised will go to the Hospital Visitation Service Committee which arranges social visits to disabled veterans.

The program for hospital visits includes musical talent to entertain and gifts for distribution.

The committee also collects toys for repair and distribution to youngsters in the families of hospitalized veterans.

Nichols said that the Regular Veterans Association plans a progressive county-wide membership drive to procure additional veterans willing to participate in hospital and veteran visitation work rather than just dues paying affiliation.

At the recent meeting in Bloomington a report was read on the national convention of the R.V.A. in Washington at which Frank J. McClernan of Baltimore was elected commander. New York city was chosen for the 1951 convention.

A communication was read from Department Commander Erwin P. Bacon of Niagara Falls of the appointment of George W. Nichols as assistant department chief of staff and Elmer Vance as department deputy chief of staff, both veterans being members of Ulster Memorial Post.
